House Passes Bill To Extend Business Tax

Legislation To Head Off Drop In Levies Is Sent To Senate

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—After a round of oratory blasting high taxes, the House today passed a bill to continue corporation and excise rates at their present levels for another year.

The measure, blocking a three-billion-dollar drop in federal revenues starting April 1, was sent to the Senate without a recorded roll call vote.

Although practically all of the speeches were against high taxes and high government spending, there was no doubt about the outcome from the start.

The House Ways and Means Committee said failure of Congress to pass the measure would mean a budget deficit of a half-billion dollars in the fiscal year starting July 1 instead of the estimated surplus of nearly two billion.

Bill Supported By Ike

President Eisenhower, in urging enactment of the bill, told Congress it would be "neither fair nor appropriate" to give businessmen a tax cut ahead of individuals. With Eisenhower's budget at a peacetime high of $71,800,000,000, both the administration and House leaders have said there is no chance of a cut in individual taxes this year.

The measure approved by the House would extend until April 1, 1958 the present 52 per cent tax on corporation profits, and continue for the same period the existing sales or excise taxes on liquor, cigarettes, jewelry, passenger automobiles and auto parts and accessories.

Bill Averts Drop In Rates

In the absence of extending legislation, the corporation tax would drop to 47 per cent this April 1 and the excise rates would revert to pre-Korean War levels.

The extra 5 per cent on corporation profits is expected to yield about two billion dollars and the extra excise taxes about one billion.

Rep. Colmer (D-Miss) opened debate with an attack on government "spending and taxing" and said "this tax bill should not be necessary." He called for major cuts in defense and foreign aid spending and said federal aid to education, "an entirely new field of federal spending," could also be trimmed.

Martial Law For Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia, March 14 (AP)—President Sukarno said tonight the revolt spreading across Indonesia has brought the republic to the point of life or death.

The hero of Indonesia's 1945 revolution against the Dutch took to the radio to explain why he proclaimed martial law to deal with the crisis caused by rejection of Jakarta's authority in almost all of the republic's 3,000 islands.

Sukarno called for re-establishment of the unity of the splintering nation, saying "We cannot permit all these matters to take their own course."

He declared a "state of war and siege" after Leftist Premier Ali Sastroamidjojo finally quit this morning, three months after army officers began taking over the government of the outer islands. The rebels demand greater home rule, contending that under the present strong central form of government the Javanese in the capital diverted the bulk of the foreign exchange earned by the outer islands to help Java.

Sukarno asked Sastroamidjojo's outgoing Cabinet to stay in office in a caretaker capacity until a new government is formed.

Portland District Attorney Clams Up At Labor Probe

SRO At Labor Rackets Probe

It was standing room only yesterday as spectators jammed the special Senate Rackets Committee hearing room in Washington to listen to testimony and an amplifier blare forth purported recorded conversations between union and public officials. District Attorney William Langley, of Portland, Ore., whose name was mentioned in the tape playback, sits at the witness table in front center. To Langley's left is his counsel, Richard Carney.

British Airliner Smashes Three Homes; 22 Dead

MANCHESTER, England, March 14 (AP)—A Viscount airliner plowed into a housing development while coming in for a landing today and burst into flame, killing all 20 persons aboard.

Hours later, the bodies of a woman and child were found in the rubble of one of three houses wrecked by the flaming craft. A woman and her 2-year-old son had been reported missing.

The big British European Airways plane was coming into Manchester's Ringway Airport on a flight from Amsterdam. It apparently overshot the runway and crashed in the garden suburb of Wythenshawe half a mile away, narrowly missing an engineering factory.

One witness said the ship seemed very low on its approach. "One wing appeared to dip sharply, striking the ground so that it turned the aircraft over and caused it to plow through through houses on its back," he said.

3 Women Aboard Plane

As the blaze died down, the airliner's twisted tail and fuselage were draped across the gardens of the houses. Police, firemen, nurses and volunteers worked frantically in the hope of finding someone alive in the wreckage.

The plane carried 12 men and 3 women passengers and a 5-man crew.

Britain Rebuffs Raft

LONDON, March 14 (AP)—George Raft has been refused British government permission to work in Britain in the movie "Women of the Night." Producer Raymond Stross said today.

Stross stated no reason for the action and no explanation was available from the Labor Ministry.

Death To Be Asked For 15 Boys In Slaying Of Negro

CHICAGO, March 14 (AP)—The state's attorney today said he will seek the death penalty for 15 white teen-agers in the hammer slaying of a Negro boy.

"This is cold-blooded murder," declared the prosecutor, Benjamin S. Adamowski. "When they work in a gang," he said, "they are all equally guilty."

A coroner's jury recommended that all 15 be held to the Cook County grand jury on murder charges.

The Negro victim, Alvin Palmer, 17, a high school pupil, was beaten Monday night while he waited for a bus at 59th St. and Kedzie Ave. Joseph Schwartz, 17, a railroad worker, told investigators he struck Palmer.

Schwartz and the other members of a gang who called themselves the "Rebels," heard Lt. James Riordan relate at the in-

14 N. Y. Buildings Swept By Fire

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—An intense fire that attracted thousands of spectators raced through 14 buildings today and injured 12 firemen, none seriously.

Five alarms were sounded in 13 minutes—the most in such a short period in 40 years.

The fire started in a warehouse and spread to a loft building and 12 tenements. The buildings were being demolished to make way for a housing project and were mostly unoccupied.

They are located on W. 132nd and 133rd Sts., between Amsterdam Ave. and Old Broadway.

Heat from the raging flames peeled paint from automobiles parked almost a block away.

"Weary" Nixon Reaches Libya

TRIPOLI, Libya, March 14 (AP)—Vice President Nixon arrived at the American Wheelus air base in Libya tonight aboard a substitute plane pressed into service when engine trouble forced his plusher U.S. Air Force transport back to Sudan.

Nixon told reporters he was "dead tired" from his nine-hour flight in a nonpressurized DC4. He went directly to bed after reviewing an honor guard and meeting Libyan Prime Minister Ben Halim at the airport.

Billy Henry, Nixon's press officer for his African goodwill tour, said the vice president was "a little mad" because the mishap had forced him to cancel a scheduled meeting with King Idris of Libya at Tobruk, his original destination.

Nixon himself, shivering in a summer suit in the cold wind at the airport, dismissed his mishap as "one of those things." He said jokingly to the welcoming crowd of about 3,000: "We've gotten very well acquainted with the Air Force in the process."

21 Students Fined In Aftermath Of Riot

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 14 (AP)—Twenty Massachusetts Institute of Technology students and one from Yale were convicted in District Court today on charges arising from a riot at MIT, March 3.

Nine other MIT students were found innocent.

Fines ranging from $15 to $305 were levied and the students were released on their personal recognizance after they appealed the decisions to Superior Court.

The disturbance reportedly was in protest against food served in a school dining room and against a proposal to increase prices for board and room.

U.S. To Resume Economic Aid To Israel Soon

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—The United States signaled a resumption of economic aid to Israel today in a way seemingly calculated to pressure Egypt into closer cooperation with efforts to pacify the Middle East.

State Department press officer Lincoln White disclosed at a news conference that consultations on resuming aid to Israel would start shortly. He said he expected the aid would be resumed after these consultations got under way.

Arab States' Also Cut Off

But the press officer went blank when asked whether Egypt and Jordan could expect similar treatment. U.S. aid to these two Arab states was suspended at the same time as aid to Israel—when the Oct. 29 fighting broke out.

Secretary of State Dulles laid down rules at his March 5 news conference for resuming aid to Egypt. He said a whole series of questions were involved, and listed them as including:

"Nothing Automatic"

Dulles said that, in general, the U.S. aid program—totaling 65 million dollars to the three countries for the current fiscal year starting last July 1—could be resumed when things were returned to their pre-Oct. 29 status.

"There will be nothing automatic about any of these matters," Dulles said. "And probably each country will be dealt with on a country-by-country basis."

That was what White today indicated was being done. He said Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban last night asked Acting Secretary Christian Herter to resume "more normal relations" in the economic field.

Marine Lieutenant Target Of Charges

PARRIS, ISLAND, S.C., March 14 (AP)—Marine Pvt. David L. Porter, 18, of Hartford, Vt., today brought new charges of maltreatment against a superior at this huge Marine Corps training base.

The 200-pound Porter, a central figure in the court-martial of a drill instructor here last week, alleges he was pummeled last night by Lt. William D. Conroy of Richmond Hill, Queens, N.Y.

The base public information office said Lt. Conroy, 26, was suspended Feb. 9 from his duty as supervisory officer of Platoon 399. Porter was a member of this platoon until he completed his boot training a week ago.

Police Search Stock Exchange For Bomb

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—Police searched the New York Stock Exchange for a bomb today, but it was business as usual on the trading floor.

Police-unlocking to the traders—followed up a telephone call from a woman who said her husband was going to place a bomb in the historic building at the corner of Broad and Wall.

No bomb was found.

Grand Jury Handed Case Against Hoffa

Teamsters Bigshot Accused Of Bribery In Inquiry Spy Plot

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—The government moved swiftly today—with a grand jury investigation—in the case of Jimmy Hoffa. Teamsters Union bigshot accused of a plot to plant a spy in the midst of the Senate's racket probes.

The cocky, dapper Hoffa, asserting innocence, said he would fight "until I am cleared."

But his senatorial accusers seemed satisfied they had the goods on him and could send him to prison on charges of an $18,000 bribery scheme. They said the scheme was designed to obtain advance tips on what the Senate investigators were up to.

Penalty For Bribery

The maximum possible punishment on conviction of bribery, is three years on each count and a fine of three times the amount of the bribe.

The grand jury began looking into the case this afternoon, and Dist. Atty. Oliver Gasch said it would meet again tomorrow.

The jury met under unusually secret circumstances with doors to several connecting rooms locked.

However, it was learned that lawyer John C. Cheasty, key witness, appeared before the jury. He is the man who, the government says, skillfully acted a double role—ostensibly a spy for Hoffa but really working with the FBI.

Gasch was asked whether any witnesses were being subpoenaed from Detroit, Hoffa's headquarters city. He said he wouldn't be surprised if that were true.

Arrested By FBI

The charges were presented to the grand jury by James W. Knapp, of the Department of Justice's Criminal Division and by Edward P. Troxell, principal assistant U.S. district attorney.

It had been only a little more than 12 hours since FBI agents, working with the special Senate rackets investigation committee, had picked up Hoffa on the bribery charge.

"Mr. Hoffa was arrested with the papers on him," observed Chairman McClellan (D-Ark), who (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

House Favors Ending Compact

ANNAPOLIS, March 14 (AP)—The House of Delegates today tentatively approved legislation to nullify the Maryland-Virginia compact of 1785 on rights in the Potomac River.

Two bills which would accomplish the abrogation passed the House on second reading after receiving a favorable report from the Judiciary Committee.

One bill would repeal the Maryland law setting up the 172-year-old compact and the other would require Virginia watermen to be licensed by Maryland and observe the conservation laws of the Maryland Tidewater Fisheries Commission.

The compact, created four years before the federal Constitution became effective, gave Marylanders toll-free passage through the Virginia Capes and Virginians equal navigation and fishing rights in the Maryland-owned Potomac.

Maryland claims its benefits under the agreement became moot with ratification of the constitution.

Citizens Rally To Youths Who Defied Law For Dog

GALVESTON, Tex., March 14 (AP)—Two boys who blazed away at officers and dog catchers in what the called defense of their pup were told today to "go home and get back in school and let those rifles alone."

Probation officer George Cusick gave the boys the advice after a talk with them, the parents of one lad and two dog catchers.

The lads, both 14, held a dozen officers and two armed dog catchers at bay for more than an hour with a .22 rifle yesterday. The shooting followed an attempt by a dog catcher to pick up the boys' small black dog. They said the city worker, Otis O'Callahan, tried to shoot the dog.

Cusick said he would talk with a judge about withdrawing the charges of assault to murder and discharging firearms within the city limits filed against Robert

AT SEA WITH EISENHOWER, March 14 (AP)—President Eisenhower sailed tonight for Bermuda on the guided missile cruiser Canberra after a visit at Norfolk with old comrades in arms.

The warship's 1,200 officers and men stood smartly at attention as the President boarded the brilliantly floodlighted ship at 7:15 p.m.

Minutes later the Canberra cast off her line and eased from her pier at this giant naval base into the smooth waters of Hampton Roads. Then she turned her bow seaward and left the United States astern.

The Canberra's four deadly Terrier missiles pointed to the moonlit sky as the ship cut through the water.

Praise For NATO Command

After the President boarded the ship he paused at the rail for a moment to permit photographers on the pier to take his picture, then headed immediately for his quarters.

Prior to sailing, Eisenhower met at Atlantic Supreme Allied Command headquarters at Norfolk with key naval officers of the United States and seven other nations.

He praised the international command for "valuable work they are doing not only for the NATO nations, but for the entire free world in maintaining control of vital Atlantic lifelines between the Western Hemisphere and Europe."

Eisenhower expressed "best wishes of the American people for a job well done."

Slow Cruise Planned

His remarks, at a private session, were relayed to newsmen by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty.

The President is taking the slow cruise to Bermuda in the hope of improving his health. He has been bothered for several weeks by a stubborn cough and he recently developed a new head cold and inflammation of the eustachian tube in his left ear.

Arabs Cheer As Governor, Aides Arrive

Move Regarded As Victory For Nasser, Setback For Israel

CAIRO, March 14 (AP)—Egypt re-established civil control tonight in the Gaza Strip, under the new governor assigned by the Nasser regime.

There was no indication of Egyptian troops moving on the Strip now policed by the U.N. Emergency Force.

The return of Egyptian administration over the Gaza Strip was regarded here as a tremendous victory for Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser and a setback for Israel.

The Egyptian Middle East News Agency carried the official announcement that Maj. Gen. Mohammed Hassan Abdel Latif arrived in Gaza with his administrative crew.

So far as could be determined, the UNEF remains the principal defense force in the Strip.

The Israelis in withdrawing just over a week ago announced they understood the Big Powers, through the U.N., would prevent an Egyptian return.

Israel's Reaction Awaited

Egypt had occupied the 26x8-mile strip under the 1949 armistice terms until the Israeli invasion of last October-November.

Israel had bitterly denounced the step.

Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion said his country would use "all political and security steps" to prevent the Egyptian return and would give no warning of its next step.

Although the Egyptian move probably will increase tension in the Middle East, it perceptibly eased immediate strain between Egypt and UNEF. This tension was increased by demonstrations in Gaza last Sunday.

Egypt announced it intended to cooperate fully with UNEF as it performed its duties along the armistice line. Cairo press attacks on UNEF dwindled.

Bunche, Burns In Gaza

U. N. Undersecretary Ralph Bunche and Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns, UNEF commander, went to Gaza to be on hand when the new governor arrived. There were no demonstrations for them but the populace crowded streets, balconies and roofs to hail Latif and his military and civilian aides with cries of "Long Live Nasser."

"Long Live Arabism," and "welcome to the Egyptian administration."

A UNEF platoon also was on hand to greet Latif.

Last Sunday, U.N. troops fired warning shots over a pro-Egyptian mob threatening U.N. headquarters. One demonstrator was wounded fatally by a ricocheting bullet, U.N. officials said.

After Bunche left Cairo, a statement was released carrying his apparent denial that he had promised UNEF cooperation with an Egyptian Gaza administration. Bunche has also stressed at times that the U.N. force is in Egypt only with the Egyptian government permission.

Senate Delays Brennan Action

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—The Senate today confirmed more than a dozen presidential nominations but delayed action on appointment of William Joseph Brennan Jr. to the Supreme Court because of the absence of his chief critic, Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

At hearings before the Senate Judiciary Committee, McCarthy contended Brennan had been unduly critical of congressional investigators of communism and subversion. Brennan disputed this and received the committee's unanimous recommendation for confirmation. He has been serving on the high court since last fall under a recess appointment.

Among the nominations confirmed by the Senate were these: Former Rep. Dewey Short (R-Mo.), assistant secretary of the Army for civil works, succeeding Chester R. Davis, resigned.

Murray Snyder, former assistant White House press secretary, to be assistant secretary of defense for public affairs. He succeeds Robert Tripp Ross, who resigned after congressional inquiries into Defense Department contracts awarded to firms in which his wife held interests.

David K. E. Bruce of Maryland, ambassador to West Germany.

Utility Spokesmen Urge Further Study Of Gas Storage Plan

ANNAPOLIS, March 14 (P)—Public utility spokesmen today called for further study on proposed regulation of underground storage of gas in Maryland.

Representatives of the Washington Gas Light Co. and the Cumberland Allegany Gas Co. suggested the storage problem be turned over to a special committee of the Legislative Council—between sessions study arm of the General Assembly.

The proposal was made at a legislative hearing on a bill aimed primarily at protecting residents of storage areas from water pollution.

The bill was introduced by the House delegation from Prince Georges County where the Washington Gas Light Co. is planning an underground storage project in the Brandywine area.

About 50 county residents attended the hearing before the House Agriculture and Natural Resources Committee.

Del. Loveless (D-Prince Georges) told the committee that residents of his county want "freedom from fear" of water pollution and contamination from such "an experimental project."

The bill would put minimum restrictions on the storage of natural or artificial gas, and would require all gas companies to obtain storage permits from the Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources.

Oscar Barry, representing the Washington Gas Light Co., said the utilities do not oppose "constructive legislation which has safety as its objective."

He said his company has been working on the Brandywine project for six years and will not be ready to store gas for two more years. The Federal Power Commission must hold hearings on the project and approve it before storage can begin, he said.

John Averett, representing the Cumberland and Allegany Gas Co., echoed Barry's plea for further study. He said certain provisions of the proposed law would make storage impossible in Western Maryland and noted that Western Maryland mining interests were not considered in the bill.

Hungary Reds Admit 180,000 Fled Country

VIENNA, Austria, March 14 (P)—The Budapest government has officially admitted that more than 180,000 Hungarians, about two percent of the country's population, fled after the anti-Russian revolt last fall.

The Hungarian Central Statistics Bureau put the population of Hungary last Jan. 1 at 9,770,000. It was 9,861,000 Jan. 1, 1956, and there were 192,656 births during the year.

Although the birth total was the lowest since 1952, the bureau claimed the births still exceeded deaths by 90,000.

The combination of figures reveals the flight total.

The bureau also said casualties during the "counterrevolution" as the Communists call the revolution—were only 2,500.

The figure is considered ridiculously low by Western reporters who witnessed the fighting in Budapest. It is only a tenth the figure reported by India's Prime Minister Nehru after he heard from his own on-the-spot investigators in Hungary.

The Hungarian economy suffered equally shattering blows, as a result of last October's uprising, according to index figures comparing January 1956 and January 1957 published in the Communist-controlled Budapest press.

Large declines in production are attributed to revolution damage and the continued resistance of workers to the Soviet-imposed government of Premier Janos Kadar.

Byrd Joins National Heroes In Arlington

WASHINGTON, March 14 (P)—The Navy buried its most famous explorer, Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd, today with the high honors accorded national heroes.

The military high command, representatives of the administration, members of Congress and hundreds of friends attended the chapel ceremony and then followed the casket to the grave in Arlington National Cemetery.

Byrd, the first man ever to fly both poles and one of the early fliers to cross the Atlantic when that was a game, died Sunday night at his Boston home. A heart condition, probably aggravated by his many long and tiring expeditions, caused his death at 68.

Duff To Assist Beck

WASHINGTON, March 14 (P)—Former U.S. Sen. James H. Duff (R-Pa.) announced today he will serve as "personal legal counsel" to Teamsters Union President Dave Beck—but not as his lawyer in a Senate investigation of Beck and the union.

Unions Blasted, Defended In 'Right To Work' Debate

ANNAPOLIS, March 14 (P)—Accounts of money mysteriously appearing through a slot in a lobbyist's door and charges of union hooliganism poured forth today at a Senate Labor Committee hearing.

Spokesmen for one side told the committee, studying a "right to work" bill, there is nothing good about today's unions.

Union leaders said there is nothing bad about them.

In short, the two-hour hearing was pretty much of a replay of the 1955 hearing on the same bill, which would ban the union shop in Maryland. The union shop is one in which a prospective employee of a firm agrees to join with in a specified period the union representing the firm's workers in collective bargaining.

Sen. Weinroth (D-Cecil), sponsor of the measure, was not present for the hearing. Committee Chairman DiDomenico (D-Balto 2nd), said Weinroth had been "taken ill." Weinroth was injured in an automobile accident late Tuesday night and was reported in fair condition.

Mrs. Dorothy Davis, chairman of the Right-to-Work Committee of the People's Union Inc., and chief spokesman for the bill, told the committee about receiving money through the slot in her door office.

She said the committee is composed of union members who are pro-union but are anti-union shop because they are "anti-compulsion."

Refusing to disclose the names of other members of the committee on grounds that they feared union "reprisals," Mrs. Davis said the group is composed exclusively of union members "working in plants" and protesting "the dictatorship of the labor bosses."

Asked who was financing her efforts, she replied her backers were anonymous contributors who sent her money by mail or slipped currency through a slot in her office door.

She was challenged by bristling Sen. Bertorelli (D-Balto 1st) after declaring "communism feeds on compulsion" and there are "communist-controlled unions in this country."

7-Year-Old Boy Killed By Tree

WESTMINSTER, Md., March 14 (P)—A 7-year-old farm youngster was killed today when a rotten tree fell and rolled over him.

State Trooper P. M. Hahn identified the boy as John Carlton Fleming, son of Carlton D. Fleming of Keymar, 13 miles west of here.

John and his 10-year-old brother, Samuel, who were out of school recovering from an illness, were playing on the grounds of the Forest and Stream Club, Hahn said.

A rotten tree, with a two-foot thick trunk, fell and rolled over a bank. John was pinned beneath the tree. Hahn said the boy told his brother to go get help but died before help arrived.

Dr. James T. Marsh, Carroll County medical examiner, said John suffered a fractured skull. He returned a ruling of accidental death.

Cypriot Rebels' Proposal Raises Hope For Peace

NICOSIA, Cyprus, Friday, March 15 (P)—Gov. Sir John Harding responded to a Greek Cypriot rebel truce offer early today with a statement saying he would welcome any move to halt violence.

His statement neither accepted nor rejected Thursday's rebel offer of a cease-fire on condition that the British release Archbishop Makarios from exile.

But it was interpreted by Greek Cypriots as holding promise of a settlement of the long rebellion against British colonial rule over the island.

Harding was in conference with aides and advisers through most of the night. At 2 a.m. his office issued the statement saying merely that he would be the first to welcome any move toward "a genuine and permanent cessation of the present violence."

It added that for the moment the governor could say no more but that he was certain the British government would display "no lack of imagination" in dealing with the situation.

Vias Markides, editor of the Greek Orthodox newspaper Ethnos and a leader of the Greek community, promptly hailed the statement as a hopeful one.

The written type of examinations probably was unknown in schools and colleges until 1702, when it was introduced at Trinity college, Cambridge, England.

Widow Balks At Pullman Without Five Cats, Dog

PROVIDENCE, R.I., March 14 (P)—Mrs. Laura Dileo Merling is holding out for a Pullman bedroom in which to take her five cats and a dog back home with her to San Pedro, Calif.

The 45-year-old widow was stranded here last week after a visit to her parents in Italy when she couldn't get enough money to transport her four-footed "children."

Federal and local agencies were willing to loan her passage money and railroad fare. But they declined to provide transportation for the quadrupeds.

The response from those who sympathized with the woman netted enough to bring her cash on hand up to about $145.

New Haven Railroad officials offered to provide crates in which the animals could ride in the baggage car while their owner rode in a coach.

But Mrs. Merling wouldn't budge. Even though it would cost $219 to go Pullman, she's insisting on that.

Railroad officials say regular tions permit transportation of no more than two animals, boxed up, in a Pullman.

When she came east, however, Mrs. Merling says she rode in a Pullman compartment with her whole "family" intact.

Havana Normal

HAVANA, March 14 (P)—The battlefield of yesterday's attack on President Fulgencio Batista by student rebels was just a sight-seeing attraction today.

Hundreds of tourists, most from the United States, strolled outside the presidential palace, scene of the unsuccessful attempt to kill or capture Batista.

A government announcement said 40 persons were killed and 60 wounded in the uprising.

FASHIONS — SECOND FLOOR

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, March 14 (INS)—Whenever one starts to write a piece about an unsung cog in a larger and more popular person, machine or event, he would do well to recall Charles Lawrence, the engineer principally responsible for the creation of the Wright Whirlwind engine which enabled Charles A. Lindbergh to fly nonstop to Paris.

In the wake of tremendous hysteria caused by that great event, friends of Lawrence gave him a small dinner honoring him for his forgotten role in the achievement.

"This is nice," he said, in responding. "and I appreciate it very much. But who the hell ever heard of Paul Revere's horse?"

This, then, is a little piece about the engine that made possible the recent record-breaking transcontinental flight of Boeing's 707 stratoliner. The four Pratt and Whitney J-57s never missed a beat during the 2,400 miles we traveled at speed; which at times nuzzled at 700 m.p.h. Nor did they falter when they recently propelled three B-52s around the world nonstop.

We all hail the Strategic Air Command as the keeper of the peace, which it is, but it could never represent the "massive retaliation" doctrine without the engine. Its B-52s, as well as four of our five production supersonic fighters, all use Pratt and Whitney's J-57, as does the Boeing passenger jet. So will the Douglas DC-8.

A story goes with it. Eleven years ago the Pratt and Whitney company was relieved by the government of its last reciprocating engine orders, after building an enormous number of such engines for the bombers, fighters and transports of World War II. It found several companies well ahead of it in the matter of jet engines. It had to do something big, and that called for a decision on the part of Leonard S. "Luke" Hobbs.

Competitors, using their own or British designs, had engines producing 5,000 pounds of thrust, the rough equivalent of 5,000 horsepower. This was being stretched to 6,000 and perhaps 7,000. It called for what engineers refer to as an "overleap." Hobbs had to jump years of normal development. He and his associates therefore set out to create a 10,000-pound thrust engine.

The first one ran in 1949 and disappointed. The next year they came up with one that nicked 9,000 pounds. They put it aside and tried for 10,000. The Navy couldn't see the engine at the time. Others said it would be too heavy ever to be put in a fighter. The men persevered. At one time, Hobbs had 1,500 engineers, mostly young men, working on the job of asking metal, a wheel, a fire and a compressor to do more than each had ever done before. The Air Force's ears pricked up. It liked the effort. It liked the gamble Pratt and Whitney had taken, too. Betting several millions building the laboratory in which the J-57 eventually was born. (Unable to stand the great cost of needed power plans for the J-57 operation, Pratt and Whitney's parent company, United Aircraft, bought up turbines from two World War II cruisers and a destroyer escort about to be junked).

Lt. Gen. L. C. Craigie, USAF, went along with the unborn engine. It worked. One might say it worked—and how! Pratt and Whitney has now produced 8,000 of them, the fruit of the bins of 2,500 subcontractors and vendors. Just under 40,000 men and women are employed building something that once was just a fond dream. Four of these J-57s sang a mighty purty song for some of us from Seattle to Baltimore. They will one day soon take people from New York to Paris in 5½ hours.

"All you've actually done," a cynic said recently to Wright Parkins of P-W, "is contain and control fire." Parkins nodded as he patted a J-57. "That's right," he said. "But that's all the Devil has done, too, and look what a place he's got."

Cuba's Batista, 56, Scoffs At "Dictator" Charge

(By The Associated Press)

A husky, grinning ex-army sergeant who says he wants only to be loved by his people is the strongman target for Cuban rebels.

President Fulgencio Batista, now 56, has been battling for 25 years to win his strongman title and hold on to it. He has had few setbacks.

He calls himself "an idealist but a practical one," claims credit for wide social reforms, and scoffs at the epithet "dictator" which Cubans and others have tagged him with.

He has also been called a Communist, a Fascist and plain political boss.

But he says he hates communism and Communists, imposes controls only to root out terrorists, and insists that what he does politically is for the welfare of Cuba.

Batista won power as an army sergeant who with other army sergeants and university students in 1933 took over the government after the regime of President Gerardo Machado was toppled.

When he became president himself for the first time in 1940, he said revolutionary days were over.

He was out of power between 1944 and 1952 but came back March 10, 1952, in an almost bloodless coup that toppled the government of Dr. Carlos Prío Socarras.

Since then he has been fighting off big and little revolts, using the army, political maneuvering and a magnetic personality as his tools.

He looks like a boxer and keeps in shape by jogging around army headquarters, playing tennis and rowing. He also likes to watch cockfights and movies and to relax with his large family. He has been married twice, fathered five sons and two daughters.

One lyrical admirer said he had "a body of steel, a jaw of bronze, the crowning glory of a glistening comb of black hair."

The personality came from his Spanish, Indian, Negro and Chinese blood, his education in an American Quaker school and his childhood as a cane-field laborer. He was born Fulgencio Batista y Zaldívar Jan. 16, 1901.

He worked in youth as a sugar mill timekeeper, a railway brakeman and a grocer's clerk.

Batista enlisted in the army in 1921, studied stenography, won the highest noncommissioned rank of staff sergeant and became stenographer to the General Staff.

In that role, he learned how the government operated. He joined the ABC, one of several secret revolutionary groups plotting the overthrow of President Machado.

Machado fell Aug. 12, 1933. Within the month, the "Sergeants' Rebellion"—Batista and his fellow-sergeants, aided by Havana University students—took over the government. They did it to balk an officers' plot, they said.

Ramon Grau San Martin became president. He made Batista a colonel and chief of staff. From then on, Batista made and unmade presidents.

Then, a major general and chief of the army, Batista resigned in 1939 to run for president. In that election, Batista defeated Grau San Martin and took office Oct. 10, 1940, concentrating on social and educational reforms.

The law prohibited him from continuing as president without an eight-year interval. His man was beaten in 1944 and he went to Daytona Beach, Fla., a political exile.

But he was elected a senator in 1948 and returned to begin a new drive for the presidency.

Three months before the 1952 presidential elections he took over in an almost bloodless coup and forced Prío Socarras into exile, claiming he had information Prío Socarras planned a phony revolution before the elections as an excuse to hold on.

Since then Batista has accused Prío Socarras, his lieutenants including Fidel Castro Luz, Communists and the Dominican Republic of plots to unseat him.

He declaimed once: "I believe that I have been appointed by destiny to do my utmost for the republic. To me, all figures of history who have emerged from the masses to change the course of a nation are guided for a predestined purpose."

Waldorf Innovation

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—Guests at the city's plush Waldorf-Astoria Hotel soon will be able to dial long-distance and local numbers from their room telephones. A $175,000 conversion, including automatic toll registers, is under way for the hotel's 2,000 rooms.

One of his heroes is said to be Abraham Lincoln.

In the social field, the ex-army sergeant has built up rural hospitals and set up a national school system—using army sergeants as teachers.

Shenandoah Airport Construction Begins

WEYERS CAVE, Va., March 14 (AP)—A huge earth-moving machine scooped up the first dirt at official ground-breaking ceremonies yesterday for the $600,000 Shenandoah Valley Joint Airport.

Officials from Staunton, Waynesboro, and Harrisonburg and Augusta and Rockingham counties were on hand to see construction started for the facility which will serve their communities.

Dr. A. Erskine Sproul, chairman of the Staunton-Augusta County Chamber of Commerce airport committee, presided over the 15-minute program at this Augusta County spot.

He said the airport, which will have a 4,000-foot runway, ushers in a new era of business and industry for the area.

Deadline for the construction of the airport has been set at the end of this year.

One-Way 5th Avenue?

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—New York's famed 5th Avenue may become a one-way thoroughfare, according to plans by Traffic Commissioner T. T. Wiley. Wiley this week transformed sections of 6th Avenue and Broadway into one-way streets.

Ides is the name given in the Roman calendar to the 13th day of the month with the exception of March, May, July and October. The Ides in these months fall on the 15th day.

Shepherdstown Masked Bandit Under Arrest

Maryland Youth, 19, Confesses Holdups

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va., Mar. 14 (AP) — A 19-year-old Maryland youth has admitted being the masked bandit who terrorized homes in nearby Shepherdstown, W. Va., earlier this month, State Police said today.

Cpl. Frank Bowley said James Johnson, a Negro from Sharpsburg, Md., had signed a statement. Johnson was held in the Jefferson County jail here on a charge of armed robbery.

Five homes were held up in Shepherdstown by a masked man wearing a black coat and black hat. In each case, the man entered the home, brandished a pistol and said, "This is a stick-up. Give me your money."

He struck while only women were at home. One woman quoted him as saying, "I've already killed two women tonight."

Bowley said Mrs. William Snyder of Shepherdstown spotted a man in a black coat and hat yesterday near a service station and called police. Johnson was arrested.

Bowley said Johnson, who formerly lived in Shepherdstown, was carrying a toy pistol. About $17 of the $60 taken in the five hold-ups—two of them March 6 and three March 12—was recovered, the corporal said.

Johnson was on probation in both West Virginia and Maryland for breaking and entering, Bowley said.

Amateur Plumber Winds Up In Hospital

TOWSON, March 14 (AP) — Police Lt. Frank Weber was trying to fix a leaky faucet in the basement of his suburban Baltimore home early today.

He gave a hard yank on the faucet with a wrench.

A 30-gallon overhead tank broke loose from its mountings, cracked him on the head, scraped his face and knocked him down.

At City Hospitals, eight stitches were required to close the gash. Back home, he called a plumber to fix the leak.

Grand Jury Urges Pinball Law Revision

SALISBURY, March 14 (AP) —The Wicomico County grand jury wants the county's delegation to the General Assembly to consider possible revision of gambling laws, particularly those concerning pinball machines which give free plays.

State's Atty. Hamilton Fox says the law does not spell out that such machines are illegal.

The grand jury yesterday asked that the Wicomico delegation consider revising the law to include pinballs.

Last week, sheriff's raiders seized nine pinball machines on grounds they gave free plays to winners. Cited as a basis for the action was a court ruling which held that free play awards were illegal.

What's to be done with the nine seized machines hasn't been determined yet.

Physician Accused

BALTIMORE, March 14 (AP) — Dr. Helen Gladys Kain, Washington physician, was charged today with failing to file a federal income tax return for 1953.

The government said she allegedly had a gross income of $12,247 but failed to file a return.

John Howard Payne was a prolific author but all his writings are forgotten with the single exception of his poem, "Home, Sweet Home."

Inner Harbor Site Urged For Baltimore Arena

BALTIMORE, March 14 (AP) —The Baltimore Civic Center Commission, trying to pick a site for a six million dollar arena and exhibition hall, heard final arguments today from groups promoting a site in the inner harbor.

The Committee for Downtown and the Greater Baltimore Committee are backing a site which would be created through harbor landfills.

They told the commission today an inner harbor site would require about $1,076,000. The commission has allotted one million for acquisition and preparation of a site.

Proponents of the harbor location said the buildings at such a site could be raised above flood level.

Under the plan presented today there would be a parking area under the exhibition hall with an arena above the hall that could seat up to 13,000.

The two committees had been given until today to come up with a plan for a downtown site. The Civic Center Commission has been considering putting the center at Carlin's Park, a privately owned tract northwest of Druid Hill Park. It will be up to the commission to make a final recommendation to Mayor D'Alesandro.

Evangelist Billy Graham's Team Prepares For Invasion Of New York

By GEORGE CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Editor

The reconnaissance squads are out, and the tactical forces are beginning to move in Billy Graham's biggest operation. His objective: To take New York City for Christ.

It is the famed evangelist's most large-scale campaign in a career of large-scale campaigns, and its preparations have all the scope and scurry of a buildup for D-Day.

"We face the city in fear and trembling," says the Rev. Dr. Graham. "Never before have we faced such overwhelming obstacles and at the same time had greater opportunities for Christian witness."

The crusade doesn't begin for two months—on May 15—but for more than a year now, the Graham team has been getting ready for it.

Headquarters for the advance party is in an eight-room office suite on the fifth floor of a building overlooking Times Square.

There is a full-time staff of about 15 laying the groundwork for the biggest drive in the biggest city.

What is hoped for, Dr. Graham says, is a "break through to the conscience of New York."

"Unfortunately," he adds, "the religious renaissance that is evident in other parts of America has left New York virtually untouched."

In tackling New York City, Dr. Graham takes on a vast conglomerate, religiously and otherwise, of eight million people. The population, in religious background, is about 45 per cent Roman Catholic, 25 per cent Protestant, 25 per cent Jewish and 5 per cent Eastern Orthodox.

But only 42 per cent are actively affiliated with any church.

It is in reaching the unchurched multitudes, Dr. Graham says, that the "heavy responsibility" lies.

In this, as in all of his campaigns, he says he is relying on the prayers of millions, in New York, across the country, and abroad.

"New York must become the most prayed-for spot on the face of the earth," he says. "If we did not believe that individuals across the world would be praying for us, we would not dare to attempt this crusade."

Starting April 1, the American Broadcasting Co.'s local station, WABC, will carry a daily "prayer time" for the crusade each 12:15 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The campaign has been booked in Madison Square Garden with its seating capacity of 20,000 for six weeks ending June 30, but it may last longer, perhaps move to the Polo Grounds in the summer. To serve at the rallies, about 500 ushers, 3,000 singers and 5,000 counselors are being recruited from local churches. A choir of about 1,500 will be used on alternate nights.

The counselors are used to confer individually with persons who make "Decisions for Christ" at the meetings, route them on to churches of their choice, and give follow-up guidance.

A New York committee will maintain a follow-up office for six months after the campaign ends to give further help to those who make "decisions" to get established in church life.

Of New York City's 1,700 Protestant churches, about 1,000 of them of various denominations are actively backing the campaign.

Dr. Graham himself is a Southern Baptist, but his campaigns are on an interdenominational basis, and he welcomes Catholics and Jews. Many usually attend.

Preparations for the event have been going on for nearly two years, and ever since the spring of 1956, the Graham force has occupied its New York offices, publishing a weekly "New York

Crusade News."

Between now and May 15, he has only one other engagement—a one-nighter in Buffalo, N. Y., in April—and he says he will spend the two months "in prayer, preparation and study."

"I want my heart to be saturated in prayer and my mind to be saturated in the Bible."

Brazil Capital Shift Debated

RIO DE JANEIRO, March 14 (AP)—Doubt and some disturbed feelings surround the question of moving Brazil's capital from Rio de Janeiro to the town of Brasilia.

The projected move has been on the books for more than 50 years. Several congresses have approved.

President Juscelino Kubitschek insists that the move will be made before his term is up in 1960 and has ordered that the new presidential palace be made ready before the end of this year.

But the final move must again have legislative approval and a battle is promised over the expense and the question of leaving the comforts of Rio for a town that has all the appearance of a frontier settlement in a Western movie.

Diplomats and businessmen who travel through the country report that outside the present capital there is a great deal of unrest over the projected move.

In Rio itself, opinion ranges from "It will never happen" to "It better not ever happen."

Brasilia is in almost the exact geographical center of the country and at a pleasant altitude of 3,000 feet.

An airport already exists there but needs to be blacktopped.

Parents Program Set At Allegany High

Allegany High School is inaugurating a program which will give the parents of students in the eighth, ninth, tenth and eleventh grades a background of the courses available for the next school year.

Dr. W. Ardell Haines, principal, and William J. Donahue, guidance counselor, have prepared a "Parent's Afternoon" program for Monday, and approximately 250 parents have registered and signified their choice of discussion groups they wish to attend.

Dr. Haines said the program is being presented so that parents may assist their children in making course selections for the next school year.

The theme of the program is "What is the curriculum at Allegany High School, and how is it related to the future careers of its students." Donahue and Dr. Haines have secured a number of consultants who will participate in the program.

The consultants include R. Bowen Hardesty, president of Frostburg State Teachers College; Dean K. S. McKee of Potomac State College, Keyser; Robert W. Jones, instructor in educational methods and supervisor of practice at Frostburg State; Mrs. Gladys Brooks, director of student nursing at Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Marietta Earley, director of student nursing at Sacred Heart Hospital; George Lucas, business manager of Electrical Workers Union Local 307 and past president of the Building and Construction Trades Council; Charles S. Catherman, director of Catherman's Business School.

Harry W. McCunn, supervisor of employment at the Amcel plant of the Celanese Corporation; Francis A. Kenney, manager of the local office of the Maryland Department of Employment Security, and Miss Jane Grindel, guidance counselor at Beall High School, Frostburg.

The "Parent's Afternoon" program will open with a registration at 12:30 p. m. in the vestibule of the school. Miss Patricia Smith will present a number of organ selections during the registration.

Following the registration, an orientation program will be held in the Allegany auditorium at which Dr. Haines will introduce and explain the program, and Donahue will outline course requirements. Discussion groups will be held following the orientation.

Group 1, with Mrs. Mary S. Hinz as chairman, will have as a topic, "What is the most desirable preparation for a college career?"

Section A of this group will have Arthur W. Taylor as discussion leader, and R. Bowen Hardesty as consultant. Assisting will be Miss Orpha B. Pritchard and Mrs. Bernice Rogers.

Section B will have Foy A. Curry as discussion leader, and Dean McKee as consultant, with Miss Jeannette Holzshu, Miss Theresa Nicht and Miss Mary Murray assisting.

Section C will be under the leadership of Miss Betsy Ross Rankin, and have Robert W. Jones as consultant. Participating will be Miss Virginia Nixon, George Conway and Mrs. Irene Maphis.

Mrs. Anna B. Higgins will be chairman of Group 2, which will discuss "What preparation would be most worthwhile for a girl planning to become a nurse?"

This discussion group will have Mrs. Anna B. Higgins as leader, and Mrs. Brooks and Mrs. Earley as consultants. Assisting will be Mrs. Ruth Grahame and Mrs. Ellen McKenzie.

Group 3, with Willard Morley as chairman, will discuss "What is the best preparation for a stu-

Bible Class Sponsoring Magic Show Today

The Men's Bible Class of Ellerslie Methodist Church will sponsor a public program today at 8 p. m. in the church hall which will feature a magician and sleight of hand artist.

Rev. Paul R. O'Brien, pastor, said the featured magician, billed as "Roberts the Magician," is Rev. Carl Roberts, pastor of a Reisterstown church. His act will include the pulling of a live rabbit from a hat, with the animal to be presented to one of the younger members of the audience.

The sleight of hand artist, according to Rev. Mr. O'Brien, is Dantini, who has appeared on both stage and television shows.

Local Elks Degree Team Wins

The ritualistic degree team of Cumberland Lodge 63, BPO Elks, won the annual Maryland-Delaware-District of Columbia Elks Association contest for the second consecutive year earlier this week in Washington.

Five local members placed first for individual honors and two were second. Other teams participating were:

Hagerstown Lodge 378 which finished second in the overall competition, Silver Spring Lodge 1677, Washington Lodge 15, Annapolis Lodge 622, Salisbury Lodge 817, Easton Lodge 1622 and Prince Georges County Lodge 1778.

Members of the winning team are Bruce M. Mackey, exalted ruler; Harry E. Thomas, esteemed leading knight; John E. Mertens, esteemed loyal knight; F. Leslie Robertson, lecturing knight; Charles S. Fields, esquire; James Flanagan, chaplain; and Warren O. Norris, inner guard. Harry I. Stegmaler, team coach, served as the candidate.

In addition to winning a plaque and individual honors, the group earned the right to represent the association in the national competition July 14 in San Francisco.

Lawn Care Bulletin Available

Residents who take pride in beautiful lawns enhancing the landscape of their homes are beginning to consider reseeding as well as the work with the mower and clippers.

Also they are pondering over coping with lawn pests. Help for homeowners is now available in a bulletin, "Lawn Insects and How to Control Them," which may be obtained at the office of Joseph M. Steger, county farm agent, in the Court House.

The informative bulletin prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture points out that some lawn insects live in the soil and attack plant roots, some feed on plant leaves and stems, and others such plant juices.

Pests such as chiggers, ticks and fleas may inhabit lawns. They do not damage the grass, but their bites are painful and annoying to people.

Treatments to control all these insects are relatively inexpensive. Considering the extensive damage some lawn insects cause, use of an insecticide is cheaper in the long run than reseeding. One mole cricket, for example, can destroy several square yards of a newly seeded lawn in a single night. The bulletin describes 33 lawn insects, tells how to locate them, lists effective insecticides, and gives directions on how and when to use them.

Thomas Edison, said to have been America's most prolific inventor, had more than 1,000 United States patents.

Liquor Bills Introduced Into Assembly

Two bills concerning alcoholic beverage laws in Allegany County were introduced into the General Assembly just before the Tuesday midnight deadline.

One of them, House Bill 926, would repeal the section on rights and duties of licensees in the liquor laws relating to the transfer of liquor permits.

The other, House Bill 905, was sponsored by Del. Estel C. Kelley, who has received the appointment to the six-year term on the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverage License Commissioners.

It would prohibit the sale of alcoholic beverages after 2 a. m. on New Year's Day. That means the first day of the year would have to be ushered in "bar-less."

House Bill 926 touches on a point that has been quite controversial among liquor license holders.

Under the law sponsored by former State Sen. Robert B. Kimble in 1953 that provided for sweeping changes in the county alcoholic beverage setup, a liquor license holder must, upon selling his establishment, surrender his license to the board. The board then must hold the permit for 30 days before it is re-issued.

According to a number of cases presented, the owner of an establishment who sells his tavern or bar cannot assure the purchaser that he will get the license.

In many cases, the value of the property consists of good will and trade built up in years past, location, and the fact that it has a liquor license. The owners of liquor licenses claim the investment they have in their location is lost when the license is surrendered.

They also point out that in other businesses good will and an established trade is not affected by property transfers and constitute the basic items in determining value.

House Bill 926 is sponsored by Allegany County Delegates Noel Speir Cook, Fred B. Driscoll and George R. Hughes.

A New Dimension For Foreign Aid?

WASHINGTON — Aid to foreign nations, a temporary measure in 1945, seems to have acquired a permanent set in 1957. In the past 11 years, our allies, friends, quasifriends and would-be friends have been the recipients of nearly $60 billion in U. S. assistance funds. And the end is not in sight according to the President's Citizen Advisers on the Mutual Security Program — the Fairless Committee — whose report was released last week.

Whereas foreign aid was begun on a provisional basis in a humanitarian desire to accelerate the economic rehabilitation of Europe, following World War II, it has now been expanded to include Asia, the Near East, the Middle East, and Latin America. The Fairless Committee concludes that these programs have been necessary and sound, and that they must be continued for an indefinite period. It warns that collective security costs are not temporary, and that "there can be no relaxation." Threading through the Committee's report is the thought that "mutual or collective security" must be extended to the four corners of the globe, "so long as the Soviet bloc continues to seek the destruction of the free world."

In this single sense, those dedicated to the proposition of liberty and freedom for all will find nothing with which to quibble. But, what of the other side of the same coin? Is there not a limit of our financial capacity to continue these benevolences ad infinitum? Quite obviously, the answer is "yes." Basic in the communist creed is the assertion that Soviet Russia will compel the United States to spend itself into bankruptcy. The present levels of our Federal budget and national debt offer little comfort in rebuffing this dictum.

The conclusions of the Fairless Committee, I fear, will not still the increasing skepticism of the American public with respect to foreign assistance. Unquestionably, the Committee's recommendation for administrative savings: against the channelling of aid through the United Nations; and for the encouragement of private investment abroad will be popularly received. But, among others, the recommendations for additional expenditures and for a review by the Congress every two years rather than annually will not be widely applauded.

In the name of national solvency and fiscal stability, if for no other reason, these programs must be diminished. The patience and generosity of the American taxpayer is not limitless. I, for one, will vote for a substantial reduction in our foreign aid appropriations.

Contractors Named For Paper Mill Expansion

Hazelwood-Tidewater Form Combine On Luke Construction Project

Site Preparation Gets Underway On $50 Million Plant Addition

LUKE—A proposal by the George F. Hazelwood Company of Cumberland and the Tidewater Construction Corporation of Norfolk, Va., to undertake as a joint venture construction required by the Luke Mill's $50 million expansion program has been accepted by West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, according to George Naughton, company project manager.

Both companies have done considerable work for West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company. Naughton said, pointing out that Tidewater is one of the largest contractors in the country concentrating on the paper industry. He said Tidewater has many years of experience in paper industry construction, especially in the south, and currently is general contractor for the $20 million expansion program at the Charleston Mill of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

Offices Open At Site

The Hazelwood firm, also a long-established organization, has done considerable work for West Virginia in previous rebuilding and expansion programs at the Luke Mill. The Hazelwood Company is the general contractor on one phase of the Cumberland flood control project.

Naughton in announcing that the contractors this week opened offices at the Luke Mill said he feels the Tidewater-Hazelwood joint venture undertaking is a "particularly happy combination."

"We are especially happy that a local contractor has a substantial interest in the undertaking," said Naughton, "because of our desire to do business locally wherever practical."

He estimated that from time to time upwards of 1,000 workers will be on the job building the enlarged mill facilities.

Construction of an extension to the finishing building and new bleaching facilities are included in the first phase of the expansion program. Site preparation for the bleaching plant is underway, and construction of the finishing building addition is expected to get started within the next few weeks. Houses on Cromwell Street just east of the finishing building are being dismantled to make room for the addition.

Program Outlined

The expansion program calls for:

Installation of two high speed paper machines, each capable of turning out a mile of paper 20 feet wide every two minutes. One machine is scheduled to be in operation January 1, 1960, and the second January 1, 1961.

Expansion and relocation of the woodyard and chip house operations.

Additional washing, screening and bleaching facilities and more digesters.

A new evaporator and a high-pressure recovery smelter.

A new lime kiln as well as other additions to the liquor recovery cycle.

A larger and perhaps relocated chlorine plant.

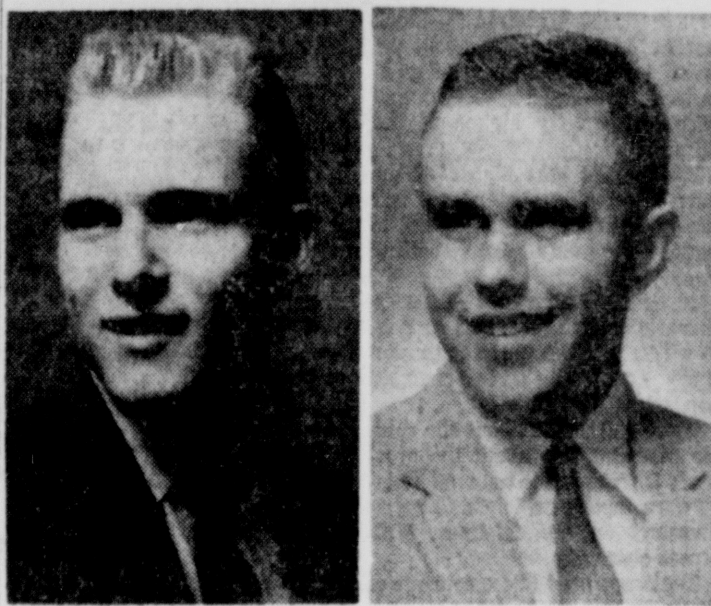

High pressure power equipment, including a turbine, boiler and supporting facilities.

Additional stock storage and refining installations, as well as coating, calendaring, finishing and shipping facilities.

The expansion program is expected to provide permanent jobs at the mill for an estimated 400 additional employees. Indirect employment also is expected to increase substantially, since the mill anticipates that its pulpwood needs, its requirements for local services and supplies, its payment for freight and its consumption of locally produced fuel will rise sharply.

Society To Meet

FROSTBURG — The Sunergoi Society of the First Presbyterian Church will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in the church annex. Mrs. Susan Richmond will be hostess for the evening and Mrs. Mary Evans will be in charge of the devotions.

BHS "Citizens Of Tomorrow"

Conrad Filsinger, (left) and Kay Nelson, (right) seniors at Beall High School were named "Citizens of Tomorrow" by their classmates, and will represent the Frostburg Rotary Club at the district conference of Rotary International at Bedford Springs Hotel, Bedford, on April 28, 29 and 30. Each year, clubs of the district send one or more boys from each community to take part in the youth work program at the conference.

Bean Lists Appropriations For Schools, State Park

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — Senator Ralph J. Bean reported yesterday that in the closing moments of the legislature an appropriation of $21,800 was allocated from surplus funds for the construction of a game and recreation building at Lost River State Park. Construction will start this summer. The present recreation building, a conversion of the old Lee Cabin, was inadequate for the park guests since the new cabins were constructed.

Sen. Bean also announced that the W. Va. Conservation Commission will stock Lost River with trout this season as an experiment, and that continued stocking in the future will depend on results this year.

Other appropriations for this area included $190,000 for the construction of additional facilities at the West Virginia School for the Deaf and Blind at Romney and an allocation of $105,000 for Potomac State College at Keyser.

Newman Club Dances Tonight

FROSTBURG — The Newman Club of Frostburg State Teachers College will hold a semi-formal "Shamrock Dance" tonight in honor of St. Patrick's Day at the Clary Club. Music will be furnished by the Townsmen, and dancing will continue from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m.

The Irish motif will be carried out in all of the decorations. The hall will be festooned with shamrocks and green streamers, and the dance programs will be green as well.

The feature of the evening will be the crowning of "Mr. Irish." Four candidates are competing for the title: Warren O'Toole, Frank O'Rourke, James Sheehee and Hugh Nolan. The winner will be chosen by penny votes of the couples attending the dance, and will be formally crowned with a typical Irish Green derby.

Other entertainment during intermission will include Dr. Howard L. Briggs and his "Musical Pencils" in a rendition of "My Wild Irish Rose"; a group of students of the Dixon Dance Studio in a dance routine and several Irish vocal selections by Patricia Allen and Robertine Boyle.

The garnet was so called from its resemblance in color and form to the seeds or grains of a pomegranate.

Frostburg Elks Lodge Will Honor Five Charter Members At Dinner Saturday

FROSTBURG—Frostburg Lodge 470, BPO Elks, will hold its annual St. Patrick's Day dinner at the Elk's home, East Main Street, Saturday at 6 p. m. with Benjamin Epstein, Grantsville attorney, as speaker and J. Glenn Beall Jr. as toastmaster.

Five charter members of the lodge will be honored at this gathering. They are A. Charles Stewart, Charles S. Jeffries, Dr. Isaac L. Ritter, William J. Edwards and Upton B. F. Edwards. Both Upton Edwards and Stewart have served as exalted rulers of the lodge with Stewart having been signally honored by being elected to the chairmanship of the National-State Association committee in 1928-29 and to the Board of Grand Trustees, 1930-35. He was made chairman of the Board of Grand Trustees in 1934-35. U. B. F. Edwards has served for 38 years as esquire in the local lodge.

The organizational meeting was held in a large room on the third floor of the First National Bank building at the corner of Main and Broadway. Later the lodge moved into the Betz building on the opposite side of Main Street.

Walter C. Close now occupies the chair of the exalted ruler; Leslie Fair, leading knight; Harold Lancaster, loyal knight; Robert Delaney, lecturing knight; Lawrence Rank, secretary; Leslie Brode, treasurer; Upton Edwards, esquire; Roy Garrison, inner guard; Orlando Parise, Tyler and A. L. Kirby, chaplain. The board of trustees is composed of Robert E. Lemmert, Joseph E. James and Ramon B. Nave. D. Lindley Sloan, the only living member of the Cumberland delegation present at the charter night program of 38 years ago, has been invited to attend Saturday night's dinner.

Lone Troop Association At Keyser Holds Banquet

KEYSER — The Lone Troop Association of Keyser held its annual Girl Scout banquet Wednesday at the Upper Potomac Shrine Club. It was in the form of a mother-daughter dinner with Brownies, Girl Scouts, leaders, committee members and parents attending.

Mrs. James Swadley, president of the association, was toast-mistress. Following presentation of the colors the salute to the flag was given. Miss Doris Ann Prysock gave the invocation.

Following the dinner Mrs. Swadley introduced Mrs. Ross W. Prysock, leader of Girl Scout Troop No. 1, who spoke on "Our Forty-Fifth Birthday," giving the history of Girl Scouting. The theme for the 45th year is "Girl Scouting Is a Family Affair."

A film, "A Trip to Our Chalet," was presented by Mrs. June Veach, Home Demonstration agent, narrated by Mrs. Pearl Tasker. This was followed by group singing.

Mrs. Swadley introduced the leaders and assistant leaders.

Health Problems Of Pupils Outlined To FSTC Classes

FROSTBURG — Mrs. Merle Jackson, school health nurse with the Department of Health in Cumberland, spoke to the principles of teaching classes at State Teachers College, Wednesday. Mrs. Jackson stressed the importance of beginning teachers they felt needed answered prior being cognizant of the health of each pupil in the classroom. She reviewed all records kept on children pertaining to health, pointing out the importance of such data in better understanding the child.

"Teachers so often become so enthused in the teaching of subjects, introduced Mrs. Jackson.

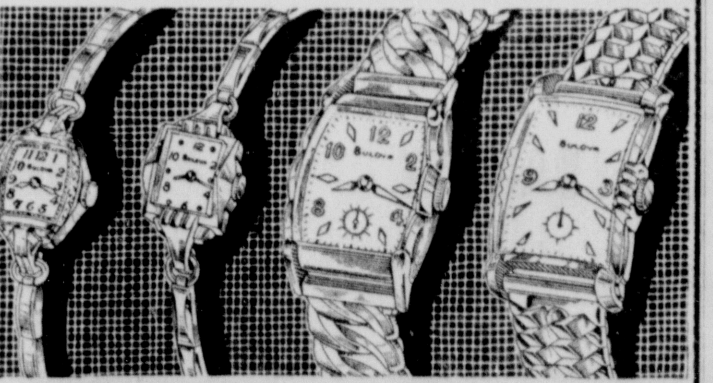

Miss Madelyn Bazzle Is Recognized As Outstanding School Teacher

KEYSER — Miss Madelyn Bazzle, principal of Limestone Elementary School, has been given outstanding honors as a school teacher in receiving the vote of the Eastern West Virginia District Federation of Women's Club. This follows closely her selection originally by the Keyser Woman's Club for the same honor.

The announcement was made by Mrs. Russell White of Shepherdstown, district president of Women's Clubs in that area. She was the choice of the Women's Clubs in Berkeley Springs, Harper's Ferry, Romney, Charles Town, Martinsburg, Moorefield, Shepherdstown, Piedmont and Keyser.

The state winner of the title is Grace Albright, Latin instructor at Washington-Irving School, Clarksburg. Information has been received that Miss Bazzle will be

Keyser High Band To Present Spring Concert March 21

KEYSER — The Keyser High School band, under the direction of Nunzio Barber, will present its annual spring concert Thursday, March 21, in the school auditorium at 8 p. m.

Emphasis is being placed on musicianship, rather than novelty for the sake of entertainment. An outstanding selection to be heard, "Toccata," will be the Class A selection for the State Musical Festival. Other classical numbers are "Salute to Grofe," "Tango Triste," "Czardas" and an "Ave Maria."

"On the Square March" and "Queen City March" will open each part of the musical evening program. Solos with band accompaniment are afforded to students of outstanding ability.

There will be two trumpet solos. Ronald Franklin will play "My Regards Waltz" and James Wilcox will offer "Londonderry Air." Jerry Borror, a baritone soloist, will present "Viennese Refrain" and Martin Fitzgerald will render a tuba selection, "My Tuba Solo."

Keyser Plans Spelling Bee

KEYSER — Plans are being completed for the annual spelling bee for students in fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades in Keyser Elementary School on Saturday, April 6 at 10 a. m. Directors of the school will be, Mary Rice, Carson Haines, Nelle Smith, Ellen Chappell and Katherine Brill. They will be directors of the contest. Judges and pronouncer will be named before the contest opens.

A record of the contest will be kept, providing a permanent record for the future.

A neutral text book will be used by the pronouncers, furnished by the superintendent of schools. It will contain standard words. Rules for the contest are those used by the National Spelling Bee.

Contest prizes will be: First, $5; Second, $2, and Third, $1. On the committee to conduct the contest will be Parker C. Black, J. P. Judy, Jeannette McGuffie and Lillian Keys.

Stock Prices Irregularly Higher In Quiet Session

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—Stock market turnover was at about the lowest level of the year today in an indecisive session which found prices irregularly higher at the close.

The market was higher at the start, continuing yesterday's fair rise. But then profit-taking got to work and many gains melted away.

Turnover totaled 1,580,000 shares, about the same as on Feb. 26 which was the quietest session since 1,390,000 shares changed hands last Oct. 23.

Continued doubt about the middle east and also about the prospects for cuts in the national budget were factors which kept many investors on the sidelines, Wall Street observers said.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 30 cents at $173.90 with the industrials up 40 cents, the rails up 30 cents and the utilities unchanged.

The 1,095 issues traded made it one of the narrowest markets of the year. Of the total, gains outnumbered losses by 463 to 367. There was an even split of new 1956-57 highs and new lows at 11 apiece.

Among the 15 most active stocks there also was a standoff, the score being 7 each for advances and declines, with one stock, Bethlehem Steel, unchanged.

Shell Transport & Trading which was admitted to dealings yesterday, repeated its role as the most active stock, dropping 1 1/2 at 23 1/2 on 114,800 shares.

Second most active was American Motors, off 1/4 at 7 1/2 on 30,100 shares. Third was Continental Oil, off 1/4 at 55. Next came Hudson & Manhattan Railroad, up 1/4 at 3 1/2 and Royal Dutch, off 1/4 at 44 1/2.

FSTC Students Plan To Attend New York Meeting

FROSTBURG—Enrico Arnone, Joyce Warnick and Patricia Allen, students at Frostburg State Teachers College and John Dunn, faculty advisor, will attend the thirty-second annual spring conference of professional schools for teachers being held in New York City March 21-22-23.

Arnone, president of the Student Congress will participate in a panel discussion on the subject, "The Role of Student Government in the Preparation of a Citizen."

Miss Allen has been assigned to a group discussing "The Student as a Teacher in the Secondary School," and Miss Warnick will be chairman of a group discussing "The Student as Teacher in the Elementary School."

Mr. Dunn will participate in a faculty discussion group on the subject "Curriculum." The general theme of this year's conference will be "Educator as Student, Teacher and Citizen."

Vermont Governor Will Crown Queen At Maple Festival

Accepts Bid To 3-Day Event

MEYERSDALE, Pa.—Gov. Joseph B. Johnson of Vermont will be guest of honor for the Tenth Annual Somerset County Maple Festival, which opens for a three-day celebration on Friday, April 5.

The Green Mountain State's chief executive will be the principal speaker at the annual opening luncheon at noon in the First Methodist Church. During the program which follows, Gov. Johnson will participate in coronation ceremonies and crown Pennsylvania's Queen Maple X, Miss Agnes Rose Oaks of Shadel Central City Joint High School.

Vermont has long been recognized as a leader in the production of maple products.

Gov. Johnson readily accepted the invitation to visit the "Roof Garden of Pennsylvania"; to speak to area farmers, business and professional men and women and the general public; to help crown a new state maple queen; to visit Somerset County maple camps, and to witness and participate in the annual Maple Festival.

Gov. Johnson was inaugurated as Vermont's chief executive on January 6, 1955, and is now serving the first year of his second term.

A native of Helsingborg, Sweden, Gov. Johnson came to the United States with his family in 1894 when he was one year old. The Johnson family lived for a few years on a farm in Westminster, Vermont, and in the village of Putney, Vermont, and then in 1902 settled in Springfield, Vermont, where the governor still makes his home.

Area W. Va. High Schools Have Entries In Region III-A Forensic Contest At PSC

KEYSER—Representatives from nine area high schools which indicate a desire to use such a minute instruction. This year there will be one contest only in each of the events, instead of having preliminaries in the afternoon and finals at night. The change has been made since both first and second place winners are eligible for the scholarship. The scholarship he won to Potomac State will then go to the second place winner in the same event. Following are the nine schools eligible to participate in the events: Berkeley Springs, Franklin, Keyser, Martinsburg, Moorefield, Paw Paw, Petersburg, Piedmont and Ridgeley. Students from the speech department will assist as timekeepers, doorkeepers and guides. Following the close of the contest in the afternoon, the women of Keyser Hall will be hosts at a tea to receive medals. Scholarships to the speech department and regional chairman, will meet with their coaches.

DEATHS AND FUNERAL NOTICES

EDGAR BEVER

MT. SAVAGE — Edgar Bever, 61, died suddenly yesterday at his home here on Calla Hill. He had been in ill health for a number of years.

A lifelong resident of Mt. Savage, he was a son of the late William and Mary (Krause) Bever, and was a retired employee of the Western Maryland Railway Company.

Mr. Bever was a veteran of World War I, a member of Old Rail Post 6025, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Memorial Post 159 American Legion, and a member of St. George's Episcopal Church. He is survived by his widow, Edna (Rawlings) Bever, a brother, Henry, and a sister, Mrs. Norman Miller, both of Mt. Savage.

Services will be conducted Sunday at 1 p.m. at St. George's Church by Rev. G. Stanley Schwind, pastor. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

MRS. HARTMAN SERVICES

A requiem mass for Mrs. Anna E. Hartman, 77, of 203 Wallace Street, who died Tuesday at Sacred Heart, will be celebrated today at 10 a.m. at St. Peter and Paul Catholic Church. Burial will be in the parish cemetery.

Palbearers, all nephews, will be George and Paul Hartman, Joseph, Randolph and John Bender and Richard Puderbaugh. The body is at the residence.

Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions Plan Annual Variety Show

OAKLAND — The eighth annual "Masked Marvel" — not a wrestler — to appear. This will mark the first time the Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions have gone outside the club to present their act. What the Thursday and Friday, March 21, "Masked Marvel" does is not generally known but his act is listed as "dangerous, different and dastardly." The club will announce next week if they are successful in securing this man.

Henry McCoomes will be master of ceremonies for the show which will have comedy, thrills and songs.

The final rehearsals will be held Sunday afternoon and next Wednesday night. Tickets can be obtained from any Lion or can be purchased at the door. Ray Jones and his committee will have refreshments available during intermission.

Oldtown Student Named Delegate

COLLEGE PARK — Dessie Mae Buser, of Oldtown, a student at the University of Maryland, will represent her dormitory at the national convention of the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students at East Lansing, Mich., on March 22.

Miss Buser, a sophomore in the college of education at the university, was recently elected president of Queen Anne Hall Dormitory.

EVANGELIST—A pre-Easter Gospel preaching mission will be conducted by Rev. Paul R. O'Brien at area Methodist churches. March 22, 23, 24 and 25, services will be conducted at Corriganville; March 29, 30, 31 and April 1, at Mills Creek Chapel, Cooks Mills, Pa.; and April 5, 6, 7 and 8 at Ellerslie Methodist Church. All services will begin at 7:30 p.m. At each church, the preaching series will be preceded by three nights of lay visitation. Special music is being arranged at all services.

As Hungary Marks A Historic Date

Hungary's Communist regime appears jittery as a historic national holiday arrives today. March 15 marks the 109th anniversary of Hungary's 1848 revolt against the imperial rule of the Austrian Hapsburg monarchy. The 1848 revolt began when Sandor Petofi, the poet-declared patriotic verses at a student rally. Twelve days earlier Lajos Kossuth, aroused by the news of the February Revolution in Paris, had denounced the Austrian government in the Diet at Budapest and demanded responsible government for Hungary. Only the intervention of Czarist Russian troops in 1849 brought the revolt to a close.

The Hungarian government of Premier Janos Kadar is trying to take over the March 15 celebration. The Communists now claim Petofi as their own. "We are the real heirs of the ideals of March 15," the government trade union newspaper Nepakarat said in an editorial early this month. But, fearful of demonstrations that could touch off another national uprising like that of last October and November, the government is trying to curb Hungary's still-rebellious students and to restore the Iron Curtain on the Austrian and Yugoslav borders, across which refugees are fleeing even now. Kadar on February 3 warned Communist "activists" that Hungarian rebels still had enough strength to act provocatively. The government charged that a new revolt was being organized in Hungary, timed to break out in March.

A Hungarian government spokesman—Dezso Fonagy—who came to the United States in January to plead his country's cause, told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee February 7 that a new revolt was planned within "one or two months—before spring." It would be a fight to the finish, Fonagy declared, for the choice is "either the extermination of the Hungarian people or the exit of the Soviet oppressors from Hungary."

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Political Theory

I was looking at a piece by Roscoe Drummond, the very able writer for the New York Herald Tribune, entitled "Republican Platform Vs. Bricker Amendment" and it raised for me an issue that is very puzzling. From the time of the Declaration of Independence and the adoption of the Constitution, the United States functioned according to a set of political theories which were well understood and over the application of which to current events men differed and argued.

The point that Drummond made was that a paragraph in the Republican platform "dealt a body blow to any Bricker-type amendment which would restrict the treaty-making powers of the President and the Senate." This means an amendment to the Constitution.

Without at all discussing the virtues of the Bricker Amendment but limiting oneself only to the theory of American government, no clause, phrase or paragraph in the platform of any political party possesses the value of an act of Congress or of an amendment to the Constitution.

In fact, the political convention is an extra-legal institution for which no provision has been made in the Constitution and the platform or resolutions of such a party are not in any real sense a binding pledge from which the party or those of its members elected to office may not depart. As a matter of actual practice, they generally do depart far and wide from the platform, forgetting its provisions with the greatest of ease. No Federal law governs the political convention and each party makes its own rules and seats its own delegates and sets itself up as the sole judge of the propriety of its conduct, except as it may be influenced or affected by public opinion.

Very little business is actually transacted on the convention floor, the noise, excitement, oratory, music and other instruments of pandemonium making it fairly impossible. Since television has become available, the convention is less important than ever, most of the business of the political party being conducted in the privacy of hotel rooms, usually quite distant from the auditorium where the convention is held.

The paragraph to which Drummond referred reads: "We maintain that no treaty or international agreement can deprive any of our citizens of Constitutional rights."

This, like all other resolutions, is an obiter dictum and has no validity in the law of the land. Even if all conventions of all political parties adopted the same provisions, they would have no validity unless enacted by Congress or formally passed, with great hardship, as an amendment to the Constitution.

No United States Senator or member of the House of Representatives is in any way bound, by law, by the Constitution or by the rules of either house of Congress to abide temporarily or forever by any provision of the platform of his own or any other political party. It is not a matter of law; it could be a matter of choice. A Senator is bound to represent the state which elects him in the Senate of the United States; a Representative is bound by American political theory and by the realities of political practice to abide by the prevailing views of his constituency.

Thus Senators Ives and Javits, Republicans, representing the State of New York in the Senate, adopt an attitude toward the Middle Eastern situation, which most closely reflects the voters' opinions in their state. Equally, Senator Eastland reflects as truly as a gauge public opinion in Mississippi. Nobody represents or reflects the platform of his party.

It would be interesting to know if any Senator or Representative recalls the provisions of the platform of either party. Really, who cares?

The Democratic platform of 1932 was all for economy; it was not long before President Roosevelt employed the New Deal as a device to fight the depression by a redistribution of wealth. This was, at one period, euphemistically called "pump priming." Whatever it was called, it ushered in an era of spend and spend, tax and tax, which is not yet ended nor is the end in sight. I wonder how much of the Republican platform of 1952 or 1956, President Eisenhower has regarded as binding upon him.

It would be, of course, of some value to know what the philosophy of the two leading parties is and how they differ. Thus far such knowledge has not been available.

'And Now-Fellow Egyptians!'

Democrats Show New Split On Foreign Policy

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Fully a week has gone by since the Senate passed the Eisenhower Doctrine resolution and the vote revealed a serious cleavage inside the Democratic Party. But this correspondent has noted a curious silence in the press dispatches on the fact that such a split has occurred.

If the Republican Party had divided in the same way and a substantial number of Republican votes had been cast against the resolution, the air would have been filled for several days with outcries about the "failure" of the Eisenhower leadership and about the new strength of the so-called "isolationist" or "right wing" bloc in Congress.

But it so happens that 43 Republicans supported the Eisenhower Doctrine resolution in the Senate and only 4 were against it. This is remarkable unanimity and a tribute to the Eisenhower leadership.

It so happens, on the other hand, that, although the Democrats control the Senate, only 31 Democratic Senators voted for the resolution and 18 were recorded as against it.

Does this mean that the Democrats now have an "isolationist" wing in the Senate and that the Republicans have abandoned their "isolationism"? If so, American prestige abroad—which we have been told "has sunk low" during the Republican era because of a fear of Republican isolationism—must be bouncing back upward. Or is there a nervousness now in Britain and France and grave concern over the "isolationist" wave in the Democratic Party which might bode ill for the whole foreign-aid program in Congress this year?

Again and again during the last campaign, the country was told by Democratic Party spokesmen that the Republican Administration should not be returned to power because it could not command a united party. Again and again Adlai Stevenson hammered away at that theme, and many of the so-called "liberals" took it up in their writings. Much was said, too, to the effect that President Eisenhower, wouldn't be able to control his own party in his second term because he wouldn't be running again and couldn't be of further use to Republican candidates in future elections. But it turns out that something sensational has happened. Never before has such unanimity prevailed in the Republican Party on an international issue, with the possible exception of the vote in 1955 on the resolution authorizing the President to use the armed forces to protect Formosa.

It is significant, too, that, although the Formosa resolution was opposed in the Senate by only two Democrats and one Republican, apparently at least 15 Democratic Senators now would refuse to give the President of the United States the same authority to use American armed forces to deal with troubled situations abroad.

The Democrats in the House of Representatives have not gone along with their colleagues in the Senate and, under the statesman-like leadership of Speaker Rayburn, voted in overwhelming numbers for the Eisenhower Doctrine resolution. But this only serves to emphasize the lack of unity among the Democrats in Congress as a whole.

Some words of alarm have been expressed by a few Democratic Senators—who do favor international cooperation on the economic side and also military assistance where America is invited to aid—lest the growth of a Democratic Party bloc in opposition to such policies may tend to hurt the position which the Democrats as a party have taken in the past.

Certainly the trend away from policies of international cooperation is noticeable among the Democrats in the Senate despite the valiant efforts of Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas, majority leader, to keep the party in line. A sizable bloc of Democrats is defying the leadership, and some of its members are talking like the Republican isolationists of the 1920s. They can hardly be classified as "modern Democrats."

This development is a discouraging one, but it seems to have escaped the notice of the many writers who are always in the forefront of the critics of the Eisenhower Administration with the vague charge that the State Department has "no foreign policy" or that it "lacks imaginative ideas."

Plenty has been written, moreover, about a trivial circumstance that occurred when the news dispatches from the Middle East happened to be good one day and Ike called this to the attention of the country in a casual remark during one of his speeches. Plenty has also been written about another triviality—that some of the Administration's plans about the Eisenhower Doctrine "leaked" to the press before Congress could organize its committees and receive the information. But when 18 Democrats out of 49 in the Senate repudiate the international policies of the party—as expressed in the Marshall Plan, the Truman Doctrine and in Korea—somehow or other there is a tendency in some quarters here to ignore a really important piece of news about a trend that could adversely affect the whole course of the United States in fighting the "cold war" against the Soviets.

command a united party. Again and again Adlai Stevenson hammered away at that theme, and many of the so-called "liberals" took it up in their writings. Much was said, too, to the effect that President Eisenhower, wouldn't be able to control his own party in his second term because he wouldn't be running again and couldn't be of further use to Republican candidates in future elections. But it turns out that something sensational has happened. Never before has such unanimity prevailed in the Republican Party on an international issue, with the possible exception of the vote in 1955 on the resolution authorizing the President to use the armed forces to protect Formosa.

It is significant, too, that, although the Formosa resolution was opposed in the Senate by only two Democrats and one Republican, apparently at least 15 Democratic Senators now would refuse to give the President of the United States the same authority to use American armed forces to deal with troubled situations abroad.

The Democrats in the House of Representatives have not gone along with their colleagues in the Senate and, under the statesman-like leadership of Speaker Rayburn, voted in overwhelming numbers for the Eisenhower Doctrine resolution. But this only serves to emphasize the lack of unity among the Democrats in Congress as a whole.

Some words of alarm have been expressed by a few Democratic Senators—who do favor international cooperation on the economic side and also military assistance where America is invited to aid—lest the growth of a Democratic Party bloc in opposition to such policies may tend to hurt the position which the Democrats as a party have taken in the past.

Certainly the trend away from policies of international cooperation is noticeable among the Democrats in the Senate despite the valiant efforts of Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas, majority leader, to keep the party in line. A sizable bloc of Democrats is defying the leadership, and some of its members are talking like the Republican isolationists of the 1920s. They can hardly be classified as "modern Democrats."

This development is a discouraging one, but it seems to have escaped the notice of the many writers who are always in the forefront of the critics of the Eisenhower Administration with the vague charge that the State Department has "no foreign policy" or that it "lacks imaginative ideas."

Plenty has been written, moreover, about a trivial circumstance that occurred when the news dispatches from the Middle East happened to be good one day and Ike called this to the attention of the country in a casual remark during one of his speeches. Plenty has also been written about another triviality—that some of the Administration's plans about the Eisenhower Doctrine "leaked" to the press before Congress could organize its committees and receive the information. But when 18 Democrats out of 49 in the Senate repudiate the international policies of the party—as expressed in the Marshall Plan, the Truman Doctrine and in Korea—somehow or other there is a tendency in some quarters here to ignore a really important piece of news about a trend that could adversely affect the whole course of the United States in fighting the "cold war" against the Soviets.

How about Portland making the major league investigations? Always figured that city was as clean as a sand bar.

Like all other towns the cookie jar operated on its own momentum. And it used Aunt Clara's municipal recipe for pie-on-the-window-sill.

This was the best investigation since Washington examined the mezzanine mink ranches. Manhattan is priming another early spring probe on gambling, gimmickry and double-entry book-keeping. New York is investigated continuously like monkey fur in the zoo.

Washington opened its own personal quilt at the same time. The committees are sweeping each other under the carpet.

That mink clinic was a piperoo. But nobody answered my classical interrogation. "For whom doth the belle toll?"

The Portland investigation is another dicta-thon with the walls having ears and the keyholes having eyelashes.

It's the old scenario of the boy being swept into office on a reform wave. And out the same way.

The pylorus is the muscular valve at the exit of the stomach. It goes into spasm when irritated by improper diet or ulcer or when overstimulated by an emotional upheaval. Reflex pylorospasm may stem from a diseased gall bladder, diverticulitis, or appendicitis. But this condition is not common.

Israel Had 100 Per Cent Approval Of U.S. In Gaza Withdrawal Plan

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The public doesn't know it, but Israel can cite the 100 per cent support of American diplomats in private talks against the move of Col. Nasser to set up civilian administration in the Gaza Strip.

What the public doesn't know is that the statement by the Israeli Foreign Minister Mrs. Golda Meir in the UN, setting forth the conditions under which Israel would withdraw from Gaza and Aqaba, was OK'd personally and agreed to by John Foster Dulles. It was also read by the French and by various State Department officials. They even made some changes in the statement.

After accepting these changes, Mrs. Meir stated that Israel makes its announcement of withdrawal "on the following assumptions:

"That on its withdrawal the United Nations force will be deployed in Gaza, and that the takeover of Gaza from the military and civilian control of Israel will be exclusively by the United Nations emergency force."

There were other safeguarding "assumptions," all relying on the UN and all approved in advance by the United States.

Immediately after Mrs. Meir's statement, and despite the advance approval, Ambassador Cabot Lodge rose, in an effort to appease the Arabs, to express some reservations. However, Israel thought she had a firm commitment and never would have withdrawn without the solemn word of John Foster Dulles, who purported to represent the United States.

Crusading Councilman?

These are days when witnesses before the Senate rackets committee are rushing to take lie detector tests. Mr. Stanley Earl, city councilman of Portland, Ore., has not volunteered to take such a test, but some of the testimony of the convicted dope peddler, "Big Jim" Elkins, has seemed so fishy that my associate Jack Anderson called the city councilman in order to learn the truth about his alleged role as a champion of clean government.

Mr. Anderson's cross-examination was not a lie detector test, but the results might help the public decide whether the city councilman is an honest crusader against corruption.

Reached at his hotel in Washington, Councilman Earl admitted he had once been a bouncer for Big Jim Elkins and his brother. But he didn't know anything about having written a letter to the Arizona Parole Board asking that Elkins be pardoned. Anderson then read him his letter.

"That letter was never presented before the Parole Board," the city councilman alibied. "I canceled it."

"How did you cancel it?"

"The councilman couldn't seem to explain. The letter is on file with the Parole Board."

"Didn't you at one time make a motion in the Portland city council to license pinball machines?"

"The councilman started to answer in the negative."

Refreshed His Memory

"Remember, your actions as a city councilman are a matter of record," Anderson reminded him.

"Wait a minute and I'll look at the record," the councilman replied. Just what kind of record he had in his hotel room in Washington was not explained, but in a minute or two he replied:

"Yes, I spoke out for them." He explained he had introduced two resolutions for pinball machines.

"Why did you once change your mind about pinball machines after you had been for them, and suddenly start denouncing them?" Anderson asked.

The question was prompted by reports that the teamsters had begun to move in on the pinball machines in a move to squeeze out Earl's friend, Big Jim Elkins.

Following this, Big Jim disposed of his pinball machines; following which, also, councilman Earl with sudden righteousness began to attack pinballs as a vicious gambling device.

Asked about this change of mind, the councilman didn't answer. He started giving facetious answers instead.

"Elkins gave me a great big chunk," he said. "I chewed on it and chewed on it until it came out haloney."

Then Earl began challenging Anderson's identity.

"I don't believe you are Jack Anderson," he said.

The councilman's conversation became so ludicrous that Anderson terminated the interview.

Senate Counsel Bob Kennedy was appraised of the above conversation, but one day later Kennedy put Earl on the witness stand as an advocate of clean government in Portland.

Ungrateful Republic

Chip Bohlen, brilliant long-time Ambassador to Moscow, is a career diplomat who doesn't have a penny outside his State Department salary. Unlike politically appointed ambassadors who contribute heavily to the party, and unlike many career diplomats who have private incomes, Bohlen operates strictly on brains.

He has been the chief State Department adviser on Russia for many years, speaks Russian fluently, has been able to call the turn on Russian events with amazing accuracy. He has also been frank — sometimes too frank for his own good. When Secretary of State Dulles has been wrong, he hasn't hesitated to say so. There's been a lot of speculation in the ranks of diplomacy, therefore, as to whether Bohlen would get another ambassadorial job.

This undoubtedly was in the minds of guests at a small Washington dinner party honoring Bohlen when ex-Secretary of State Dean Acheson was called upon to toast the homecoming Ambassador.

"I hope," said Acheson, concluding his toast, "that the republic will be grateful."

"The French have said this before, as they have said many things," replied Bohlen, returning the toast, "but when a republic becomes grateful, it ceases to be a republic."

Note — Bohlen is now to become Ambassador to the Philippines, which, after a couple more years of service, will permit him to retire on an ambassadorial pension.

Note it said that Admiral Dewey wore a corset at the Battle of Manila. What the admiral wore was a figure streamlining contrivance more aptly referred to as a "health belt." Many army and navy men wore these belts. The Duke of Wellington wore one at the Battle of Waterloo. In addition to smoothing out that figure bulge frequently facetiously referred to as a "corporation" these belts aided in maintaining an erect posture and were also considered generally beneficial to the health.

LITERARY NOTE

Are you a detective? Or a mystery story writer? Are you familiar with that highly interesting book titled "System Der Kriminalistik" by Dr. Hans Gross, professor at the University of Prague? This book was written in 1893. Many detectives have found in it a number of helpful hints on crime solution. Also some mystery story writers have found plots in the actual criminal cases discussed in it. It was, for example, the inspiration for that great mystery tale by S. S. Van Dine titled "The Greene Murder Case."

Faith And Begorra! Saint Patrick's Day Is The Time For Irish Soda Biscuits

The month is March and the Irish are in clover! It's a wonderful month to make the welkin ring with an Irish harp, to wear the green and wield a shillelagh. For the vast majority of Americans—whether of Irish descent or not—Saint Patrick's is a great day for dining in the style of the Emerald Isle. Although corned beef and cabbage is a popular combination in Ireland, the sons of the "auld sod" also enjoy on that very special day a feast of boiled ham, roast chicken and good roast beef. And a "must" on any authentic Irish menu are Irish soda biscuits.

Here is a recipe for this typical Gaelic bread made with golden shortening an ingredient which gives the biscuits a golden quality and makes them extra flaky, tender—and light. For breakfast, lunch or dinner, this "bread with a brogue" will find a welcome place on your Saint Patrick's Day menu.

Irish Soda Biscuits
2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup milk

In a mixing bowl combine the flour, baking soda, cream of tartar and salt. With a pastry blender or two knives cut in shortening until the mixture looks like coarse cornmeal. Add milk and stir gently with a fork until dough holds together. Gather dough into a ball, turn it onto a lightly floured board and knead gently with flour. Place the dough on a baking sheet about 1 inch apart and bake in a 400° F. oven for 15 minutes.

2 teaspoons salt
3 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
Dash pepper
1/4 pound American cheese, grated
1/2 cup crushed, ready-to-eat cereal flakes

Combine vegetables in a shallow baking dish and sprinkle with 1 teaspoon of the salt. Melt 2 tablespoons of the butter in a saucepan over low heat, blend in flour. Add milk slowly, stirring constantly and cook until sauce is smooth and thickened. Add salt, pepper, and cheese; and stir until cheese is melted. Pour cheese sauce over vegetables; top with cereal flakes, and dot with remaining butter. Place in a moderate oven, 350° F., 10 to 15 minutes, until thoroughly heated. Makes 6 servings.

You'll want to make your cue from the Orient, or from the kitchens of our own Southern States, where rice is an all-time favorite. While just the thing for puddings, stuffings, side dishes, choice for a great variety of dishes, are now in abundant supply at economy prices. So is rice! Together they make a superb combination.

The stewing chicken, as defined by the U. S. Department of Agriculture for grading and inspection, is the mature female chicken, usually more than 10 months old, with meat less tender than a roaster, and non-flexible breastbone. In including it in plans for your dinner menu, you can count on unexcelled flavor, well-developed meatiness, fine adaptability, and high nutritive value.

Its qualities lend themselves for use in such delicacies as creamed chicken, chicken loaf, chop suey, chicken salad or sandwiches. Or for chicken pies, croquettes, casseroles, soups, or escalloped. Special Dish For Lent

This baked whole fish is a gourmet dish on all counts. It boasts great flavor — a blend of its own, gentle delicacy with seasoned bread stuffing. Then in the baking it's basted with a pungent creole sauce and served with more of same. The fish looks plump and impressive, too, on the plate. And the hot savory whiffs tell what appetizing eating is ahead.

The secret of all this flavor is really no secret at all. Simply canned apple sauce — used with imagination! A little canned apple sauce and acts as a binder. And the lively creole sauce starts with canned apple sauce and goes on to chopped onions, chunked fresh tomatoes, diced green pepper and seasonings. Plenty of personality that sauce has, and expresses it.

Keep this baked fish if you wish as a specialty for Lent — for either family or guests. But, remembering how savory it is, you'll probably decide it's a dish that can be relished any time of year, and you'll be right — especially since it's so easy to prepare. Like this:

Apple Creole Baked Fish
3-5 pound white fish, cleaned
Salt
3 cups bread crumbs
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning
Few grains pepper
2 cups canned apple sauce
Melted butter or margarine
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 garlic clove, chopped
2 tomatoes, cut in eighths
1 teaspoon sugar
Small piece bay leaf
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
Wash fish; rub inside and out with salt. Combine bread crumbs, chopped onion, melted butter or margarine, salt, poultry seasoning, pepper and 5 tablespoons apple sauce; fill cavity of fish with stuffing; sew edges together. Brush fish with melted butter or

Arm Steak—Budget Dish With Style

Here's real music to the ears of homemakers who like to serve steaks. Occasionally, the more demanded steaks . . . T-bone, porterhouse and sirloin . . . will tend to overtax the budget. This good-to-the-last-bite beef arm steak smothered in onions, with filleting and freezing Ocean Have the steak cut 3/4 to 1 inch thick, and cook the steak by braising, a moist heat method of meat cookery.

Without a doubt, calls for seconds will be heard. Beef Steak with Onions is a wholesome February meat entree that will take the chill out of everyone's bones.

Beef Steak Smothered with Onions
Beef arm steak, cut 3/4 to 1 inch thick
1/2 cup enriched flour
Lard or drippings
6 medium onions, sliced
Salt
Pepper
Dredge steak with flour. Brown on both sides in lard or drippings. Cover and cook slowly for 1 hour. Add onions. Season. Cover and continue cooking for about 30 minutes or until meat is tender and onions done. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 1/4 oz. can evaporated milk
1 package instant banana pudding
Heavy cream
Mix crumbs and sugar; blend in butter or margarine. Press into 10" pie plate. Chill. Combine apple sauce, coconut, almonds, lemon rind and juice; mix well. Pour into pie shell. Gradually add evaporated milk to pudding; shake up or beat with rotary beater. Carefully pour over apple sauce layer. Chill at least 2 hours in refrigerator. If desired, may be topped with whipped cream. Yields 6-8 servings.

It's wonderful the delicious dishes we can achieve these days with the aid of modern "convenience" foods. For example, here are the directions for a pie that from chocolate crumb crust to luscious creamy filling is put together from products probably right on your shelf this minute:
Shake-A-Coconut Banana Pie
1 1/2 cups chocolate cracker crumbs
6 tablespoons sugar
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
1 cup canned apple sauce
1 cup shredded coconut
1/4 cup chopped almonds

Ocean Perch Plentiful

Looking for an economical fish to serve for dinner? Then why not choose Ocean Perch from the fish counter, suggest University of Maryland food economists.

There will be abundant supplies on hand for March eating at very reasonable prices.

Ocean Perch is caught by New England fishermen from Cape Cod to eastern Nova Scotia. It was not until 1935 that the industry started experimenting with filleting and freezing Ocean Perch. It is now ranked first in volume catch.

Ocean Perch, marketed principally as frozen fillets, is an excellent food fish with firm flesh and flaky with a mild delicate flavor. Most Ocean Perch fillets are small — about eight to a pound — and can be identified by the mottled reddish or pink skin. The skin on the fillet may be removed before cooking.

The frozen fillets may be cooked without thawing if additional cooking time is allowed. They may be thawed overnight in the refrigerator; if faster thawing is necessary, they may be left at room temperature for 3 or 4 hours.

Ocean Perch fillets may be prepared by any of the basic cooking methods of frying, baking, broiling, and steaming or in an

Celebrate With Festive Cream Cake

In the manner of birthday customs, the traditional symbol of a birthday celebration appears in the form of a festive cake. Preparation time is short and the cost low. Only seven ingredients are required for the cake's making. Heavy (whipping) cream is the principal ingredient. It serves as both the shortening and the liquid in the recipe. Because of its delicate flavor, the cake lends itself to a variety of fillings and frostings. It can be baked in a variety of shapes without changing ingredients or baking temperature. Only the baking time need be adjusted—to the selected pan shape.

Centennial Cream Cake

(Makes two 8-inch layers)
2 cups sifted cake flour
1 cup granulated sugar
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 pint (1 cup) Heavy Cream
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
2 eggs
Sift flour, sugar, baking powder and salt together twice. Pour cream and vanilla into a deep 1-quart bowl; beat cream with electric mixer or rotary beater until just stiff; about 1 1/2 minutes. Add unbeaten eggs and beat just until blended. Add flour mixture and beat (if an electric mixer is used, beat at low speed) until batter is well blended. Turn into pans which have been greased, waxed paper-lined and greased again. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes or until top of cake springs back when lightly touched with finger. Cool cake in pan on cake rack for about 10 minutes. Remove from pan; remove waxed paper. When thoroughly cooled, frost with Almond Cream: Whip 1 pint heavy cream; add 3 to 4 tablespoons confectioners' sugar and 1/2 to 1 teaspoon almond extract. Spread between layers and on top and sides of cake. Decorate with maraschino cherries and almonds. If desired, chill before serving.

Altitude Adjustments
5,000 feet: Reduce baking powder to 1 1/4 teaspoons and add 2 tablespoons unwhipped cream or milk with eggs. Increase baking temperature to 365 degrees F.
7,500 feet: Reduce baking powder to 1 1/4 teaspoons and add 2 tablespoons unwhipped cream or milk with eggs. Increase baking temperature to 365 degrees F.
Baking Time Adjustment for Other Sizes and Shapes
35-40 minutes for 9-inch square cake.
45-50 minutes for 9-inch ring cake.
12-15 minutes for sheet cake.
1 hour for loaf cake.

NEW PACKAGE DEMONSTRATED—H. A. MacMannis, vice president of the Schmidt Baking Company, presents a new Blue Ribbon Bread package to some of the 90 salesmen and wives who attended a recent dinner meeting sponsored by the company at Fort Bedford Inn, Bedford, Pa. The new package has the paper band sealed to the transparent wrapper to provide easier use.

Cheese Specialties Make Versatile Lenten Meals

Make it with cheese and make it special! There's just no end to the versatility of cheese, and when planning Lenten menus it can be a cook's best friend in the kitchen. There are cheese dishes suitable for every course in every meal. For instance, cheese muffins or cheese soufflé are just right at breakfast... an appetizer of cheese wafers at lunch... a cheese and rice casserole for supper... green beans or cauliflower with cheese sauce for dinner... a salad of cottage cheese and fruit is good anytime... lemon cheese cake or cream cheese cookies are marvelous desserts.

Baked Rice and Cheese
2 eggs, slightly beaten
3 cups cooked rice
1 1/2 cups grated American cheese
1/4 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
dash cayenne pepper
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 cup corn flakes
2 teaspoons butter or margarine, melted
Combine eggs, rice, cheese, milk, salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce; mix well. Turn into greased 1 1/2-quart casserole. Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs; mix with melted butter. Sprinkle over rice mixture. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) about 30 minutes. Serve with tomato sauce, if desired.

Cheese Bran Muffins
1 cup whole bran cereal
1/4 cup milk
1 egg
1/4 cup soft shortening
1 cup sifted flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup grated cheese
9 1-inch squares of sliced cheese
Combine whole bran cereal and milk; let stand until most of moisture is taken up. Add egg and shortening and beat well. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; mix in grated cheese. Add to first mixture, stirring only until combined. Fill greased muffin pans 3/4 full. Bake in moderately hot oven (400°F.) about 20 minutes. Top each muffin with square of cheese and bake about 10 minutes longer. Serve immediately.

Lemon Cheese Cake
3 cups corn flakes
1/4 cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
3 tablespoons cold water
1 4-ounce package lemon pudding mix
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup milk
3 eggs, separated
2 cups small curd cottage cheese
1 8-ounce package cream cheese
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring.
Yield: 6 servings
Cheese cakes are often thought of as sophisticated desserts, as they have known great popularity in many smart and expensive restaurants. In spite of this, the cheese cake can be prepared easily in any kitchen. This recipe for cheese cake adds the delightful tartness of lemon to the characteristic cheese flavor. The cereal crumb crust, made with corn flakes, is sweetly crisp and perfect with the creamy cheese filling.

Appetizers are to a dinner, what a prologue is to a book. They arouse interest in the dinner to follow. It is generally true that when a hostess serves tempting appetizers, her dinner is equally good. These Crispy Cheese Wafers are small, simple and savory... to whet the appetite.
Crispy Cheese Wafers
1/4 cup butter or margarine
2 cups grated processed American cheese
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
3 drops Tabasco sauce
3 cups corn flakes
1/2 cup sifted flour
1/4 teaspoon paprika
Blend butter and cheese; blend in Worcestershire sauce and Tabasco sauce. Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs; combine with flour and paprika. Add to cheese mixture and mix well. Shape dough into two rolls about 1 1/4 inches in diameter; wrap in waxed paper. Chill about two hours or until firm. Cut into thin Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs. Blend butter and sugar. Stir in corn flakes crumbs; mix well. Press evenly and firmly into bottom of 8 or 9-inch spring-form pan. Chill.

Soften gelatin in water. Combine pudding mix, sugar and 1/4 cup of milk in saucepan. Blend in egg yolks; stir in remaining milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils. Remove from heat. Add softened gelatin, stirring until dissolved. Combine cottage cheese and cream cheese. Stir in salt, vanilla and pudding mixture. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold into cheese mixture. Pour over crumb crust. Chill about 4-5 hours until firm. Serve garnished with whipped cream and currant jelly, if desired.

Quick Trick
Separate ground beef during cooking with a potato masher when making chili, browning meat for casserole dishes, etc.

The average American adult will consume his weight in food in about 50 days.

How Lucky Are Eggs?

Man has eaten eggs for centuries, but sometimes he hasn't been able to decide whether eggs are lucky or unlucky.

Fishermen used to keep them off their boats for fear of bringing contrary winds. There's an old superstition that dreaming of eggs predicts trouble, unless the shells of the eggs are broken. Years ago in England, eggs were not allowed to leave the house or to be brought in after sunset — for fear of ill luck.

On the other hand, it has been thought that eggs are good for the voice — and that eggs and lemon juice, beaten together, cure hoarseness. People have used yolks of eggs in plasters for insect bites, and whole raw eggs rubbed into their hair for stimulating its growth and preventing its falling out.

Luckily for consumers, supplies of eggs are especially plentiful this month. Plentiful supplies usually mean lower prices, so March is the month for serving all the eggs you like — to experiment with a new egg recipe, or to get re-acquainted with one.

The Lenten Story

Every fish has its day and for six weeks, this food receives special billing. However, it can become mighty old hat without a new twist or two in the flavor line. Fish and pickles are a happy combination, but for the secret flavor touch, the pickles are the answer. Add some chopped onion, tarragon, and oregano to an ordinary jar of commercially packed sweet pickles. Close the jar tightly and let it all mellow together for a few days in the refrigerator. Then taste and enjoy and serve such delicious, interesting dishes as the Salmon Steaks Italiane.

Herb Sweet Pickles

1 (15-oz.) jar sweet pickles
3 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon oregano
1/4 teaspoon tarragon

Remove cap from jar; save lid. Add onion, oregano, and tarragon to the pickle liquid. Recap the jar tightly and shake vigorously. Store in the refrigerator for three days, shaking jar several times during storage period.

Containers and soups turn convertible. Mushroom Salmon Bisque made with condensed soup demonstrates this nicely, especially served from a copper bowl, when set atop a candle warmer — is converted into a tureen.

A Touch Of Spring

Just in time is this new, exciting dessert to add a Spring touch to a winter meal. Refreshing as a straw hat with a winter suit is this handsome junior-size cereal ring served with vanilla ice cream and bright cling peaches. Here's a honey of a dessert for the whole family and their friends to enjoy.

Honey Cereal Ring
5 cups junior-sized shredded wheat
1/4 cup melted butter or margarine
1 cup honey
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup walnut halves
6 canned cling peach halves
1 pint vanilla ice cream
Grease an 8 inch ring mold very well. Set oven at 425° F. Put the shredded wheat in a large bowl. Mix the melted butter, honey, cinnamon, cloves and salt together and stir until well mixed. Add nuts and the butter-honey mixture to the cereal. Mix until all cereal is well coated with the mixture. Carefully press into the prepared ring mold and bake for 15 minutes. Turn ring upside down onto serving plate and let it stand for 5 minutes. Gently remove the pan. Cool. Fill center with ice cream and garnish ring with peach halves which have been cut in half. Makes 6 servings.

1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Stuffed olives, sliced
Soften the gelatin in cold water and dissolve in the hot milk. Cool slightly. Add cottage cheese, Blue cheese, the chives and seasoning. Let cool until the mixture thickens. Whip with rotary beater until fluffy. Oil a small ring mold lightly and arrange slices of tomato and stuffed olive in the bottom. Pour in the cheese mixture and chill until firm. Turn out on a plate garnished with lettuce or water cress and fill the center of the ring with vegetable salad, mixed lightly with tart French dressing. Makes 6 servings.

Any Attractive Container Converts To Soup Tureen

Potbellied stoves were synonymous with soup. This one you're sure to like for tureen have been with soup. However, no need to get nostalgic for those stoves laden with steaming soup kettles, for today's can tomato juice and 1/2 soup can well blended canned condensed soups, are the results of this same cooking.

As for a tureen, almost any attractive container will do — when you have a pretty ladle. For instance, the copper bowl in the picture above, which sits neatly and comfortably atop a candle warmer. Yes, you can convert anything into a soup tureen.

Soups are convertible too. Try Mushroom Salmon Bisque tonight. It takes two cans of condensed soup — cream of celery and cream of mushroom, and a can of salmon. Float some atop (or a gala effect. Ladle proudly from YOUR tureen for dinner in the gracious manner.

Mushroom Salmon Bisque

1/4 cup minced onion
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 can (1 1/4 cups) condensed cream of celery soup
1 can (1 1/4 cups) condensed cream of mushroom soup
1/2 soup cans milk
2 cups flaked cooked salmon (1 pound can, drained)
Dash black pepper
Cook onion in butter until tender. Blend soups together; stir in milk and remaining ingredients; heat. Garnish with minced parsley, if desired. 6 generous servings.

It's A Great Combination!

Soup mates are forever with us, and lucky we are for the combinations of two soups to make one are just great! For those to whom the hearty flavor of black bean soup appeals, try blending 1 can (1 1/4 cups) condensed black bean soup with 2 soup cans water. Stir in 1 can (1 1/4 cups) condensed onion soup. Heat. Um-m-good. Serve generously to 4 people.

Garrett County Civil Service Bill Entered

A measure to knock out the so-called "ripper" bill affecting Garrett County's roads department, introduced by Sen. Clifford Friend, was dropped into the House of Delegates hopper just before the deadline Tuesday.

The bill is marked sponsored by the Garrett County Delegation, but Del. Kermit Glatfelter of Accident says he doesn't know what's in the measure.

The bill would place salaries and hourly paid employees of Garrett County under a merit or civil service commission.

Del. Harry Edwards of Grantsville, chairman of the delegation, yesterday admitted Del. Glatfelter didn't know the details of the bill, but added that the "three of us" had discussed the bill. Del. J. J. Ashby of Oakland is the third Garrett County delegate.

Del. Edwards, chairman of that county's delegation, said all supervisors would come under civil service. This would mean that William DeWitt, county roads engineer, would keep his job under civil service if the bill is passed.

Sen. Friend said from Annapolis that the bill is a political move to attract the road workers. Sen. Friend sponsored Senate Bill 141 which provided that Garrett County's roads engineer have a degree in civil engineering, an accountant to set up an accounting and bookkeeping system for the County Roads Department, and provided for letting of bids on purchases over $1,000, and required quarterly reports of the roads department to the county commissioners.

Critics of Sen. Friend allege that his bill was a move to eliminate DeWitt from office.

It was learned yesterday that Sen. Friend, in a flyer mailed to Garrett County residents, charges Del. Edwards and Del. J. J. Ashby with holding up Senate Bill 141.

Sen. Friend on deadline day Tuesday also introduced Senate Bill 566 which would authorize municipal governments to discontinue the membership of their officers and legislative body members in the employees' retirement system under certain conditions.

He also submitted Senate Bill 639 which would authorize and direct supplemental pensions for certain retired school teachers in Garrett County.

The Garrett delegation also put in a bill on the final day, House Bill 824, which provides a schedule of payments by the Garrett County Commissioners to several volunteer fire departments.

Warren G. Harding was the first U. S. president to visit Canada during his term of office.

moment it was introduced on the first day of the session, Jan. 2.

It went through two hearings by two committees and changed radically before succeeding in reaching passage stage in the House. The original bill contained specifications for the type of material to be used and it was claimed that only one manufacturer, Minnesota Mining, could meet them.

The bill in its present form gives the commissioner of motor vehicles free choice in selection of the material. Del. Simpkins (D-Somerset), chairman of the Judiciary Committee which first wrung out the bill, said he understood a dozen companies make the material in the United States.

Requires Consent

Among bills passed by the Senate was one to require counties to obtain consent of the General Assembly before removing tax exemptions they had previously granted on manufacturing machinery and inventories.

Sen. Turnbull (D-Balto County) whose Finance Committee held a hearing on the measure, said the Court of Appeals has already interpreted this as being the law but some industries are hesitant to settle in a state where it is not spelled out in the statutes. He said the law does not apply to Baltimore City.

Another bill passed would prohibit the sale of drugs and patent medicines in vending machines.

The Senate also sent to the House a bill to permit the construction of larger farm ponds. It would increase the limits on such ponds—built for irrigation, soil conservation, fish propagation and fire protection—to five acres in area and 15 feet in depth.

The senators passed and sent back to the House with technical amendments a bill to make the habeas corpus law applicable to defective delinquents.

Home Service

communities may receive it from chapter Home Service.

Training and Recreation—Field directors on military installations, working with military authorities and adjacent chapters, often arrange Red Cross classes in first aid, water safety or home nursing on the post or for post families living nearby. Upon request from military authorities, they also ask chapters to assist with recreational activities on the post. These activities are generally conducted by volunteers.

Heavy Case Load Here

Here in the Allegany County Chapter, one of the most active services is Home Service. Last year 642 cases were handled at the local Red Cross office. These ran the gamut from notifications to men in service of births, deaths, sickness and family problems, requests for leave in many cases, assistance to servicemen's families when funds were short or allotment checks failed to arrive in time to meet expenses, and assistance to dependents and to veterans in filing and notarizing papers to straighten out allotment claims or other claims such as disability benefits.

Mrs. George W. Legge, local Red Cross director, estimates that more than half her working day is devoted to the problems in Home Service. And these problems, because of their very nature, pay no attention to the 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. office hours. Seldom a week passes but she is called at home late at night to help some family or some stranded serviceman cope with an immediate problem.

A third of the local budget is expended in the Home Service work of the Red Cross.

Equity Suits Filed

Two equity suits were filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court. The bills of complaint were titled Nancy Mary Crawford vs. William Crawford and James R. Sisk vs. Leona J. Sisk.

International Night To Be Marked By Youth For Christ

Youth For Christ International Night will be observed Saturday at 8 p. m. by the Tri-State Youth for Christ at a rally in the Salvation Army Citadel.

Pamphlets describing the work for Youth For Christ International in 83 countries and all the United States will be presented. Rev. Benjamin Saint, pastor of the Tabernacle of Faith, Irwin, Pa., will be the speaker, and will be making his fifth appearance here.

A "Who Said It" contest, based on quotations from the Book of Acts, will be held by Fort Hill and Allegany High students. Local young people will present special music.

Soil Bank Deadline Extended To April 15

The deadline for enrollment in the conservation reserve of the soil bank program has been extended one month to April 15, Miss Elizabeth A. Hoover, manager of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reported yesterday.

Originally, the deadline was set at March 15, which is today, but Department of Agriculture authorities decided to allow an extra month.

Rain And Colder Weather Forecast

Continued fair weather with temperatures in the 70s is forecast today with the possibility of scattered showers in the afternoon and night.

The high reading yesterday at Constitution Park was 70 degrees, while Wednesday the temperature soared to 72 degrees for the high this year.

The weather man calls for the weather to turn colder tonight, with Saturday to be partly cloudy with a chance of snow flurries in the mountains.

Two Men Are Held On Felony Charge

Two Cumberland men are being held in Allegany County Jail following their arrest yesterday by Baltimore and Ohio Railroad police.

The pair, Donald Willard Swager, 20, of 119 Roberts Street, and Eugene Paul Swick, 25, of Mary Street, are charged with breaking and entering a storehouse on railroad property on 21st Lane on February 28.

Both were questioned in the State's Attorney's office yesterday and will be given a preliminary hearing in Trial Magistrates Court today or tomorrow.

Man Is Jailed

Paul Stevey, North Mechanic Street, was arrested yesterday after an assault warrant was obtained by George Thomas of North Mechanic Street. Stevey is being held in Allegany County Jail pending a hearing today at 2 p. m. in the Allegany Trial Magistrates Court. Police said the two were involved in an altercation near the Thomas home Tuesday.

Plumbers To Meet

Local 489, Plumbers and Steamfitters Union, will meet today at 8 p. m. in the Allegany Labor Temple.

Local Man Sentenced On Assault Charge

Roy Smith, 27, of 118½ East Elder Street, was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction on separate charges of assault and carrying a concealed weapon at a hearing yesterday before Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason.

Smith pleaded guilty to both charges, and Magistrate Mason ordered that the sentences be served consecutively.

The charges resulted from a fracas early last Saturday morning when Smith fired a weapon at John Fadley following an exchange of words in a South Cumberland restaurant.

Olympia Dell, 16-1, Cops 7th At Gulfstream

MIAMI, Fla., March 14 (AP)—Circle M Farm's Olympia Dell, held at 16 to 1, furnished a surprise when she sped to victory in the $4,000 Jamestown Purse at Gulfstream Park today.

The 4-year-old daughter of Olympia was in front virtually all the way, beating J. S. Nash's Recherche, a 30 to 1 chance, by 1 1/4 lengths in a swift clocking of 1:16 4/5 for 6 1/2 furlongs.

Third was Mrs. C. Ulrick Bay's warm weather.

Noorsaga, even money favorite, another short length back. Olympia Dell, winner of the Miss Woodford Stakes at Monmouth Park in 1956, was ridden by Sidney Cole. She paid $34.70, $18.90 and $6.90. Recherche, handled by Robert L. Stevenson, returned $23.80 and $6.90. Noor saga, with Johnny Choquette up, paid $2.60.

Olympia Dell, trained by C. W. Parish, had raced thrice at Hialeah, getting a third once. Last year, she competed in nine races, earning $23,350. She is owned by Mrs. Edward S. Moore, of Miami Beach and Lexington, Ky.

A crowd of 16,162 turned out in Third was Mrs. C. Ulrick Bay's warm weather.

Keene Rides Four Winners

Scores With Two Bowie 20-1 Shots

BOWIE, Md., March 14 (AP)—Leading rider Harold Keene enjoyed his biggest day of the Bowie race meeting today when he registered with four winners, including Mrs. Joseph M. Lingle's Lord Jeep, who took top honors in the Preston Purse, featured seventh race.

After winning with three outsiders in early races, Keene handled Lord Jeep for the form players at $5.20-for-$2 odds and won by only a nose for the third time of the program.

Lord Jeep, who possesses early speed and was inclined to tire in previous outings, was rated off the pace and came on with a rush to win by a nose from Granger Menefee's Solid Gem, who tired slightly in his first start of the year.

Lord Jeep, a son of Lord Boswell and Belle Jeep, turned in one of the fastest six furlongs of the meeting, being clocked in 1:11 1/5.

Lord Jeep paid $5.20, $3.20 and $2.80; Solid Gem $9.20 and $5.60 and Mary's Bubble $4.40.

Keene's other winners on today's card were: Monti's Dream at $40.00 for $2 in the second race, Fajardo at $40.60 in the fourth race and Hit The Road at $8.60 in the sixth event.

Some 12,105 fans turned out on this warmest day of the season and wagered $1,072,669.

Lion Cage Baptism

MILAN, Italy, March 14 (AP)—Two circus babies were baptized in a lion's cage. The big top believes this will make them brave.

Papa Sven Ewerty, the bear tamer, and Papa Orlando Orfei, the lion tamer, kept an eye on Teret, the lioness, while their daughters were baptized. Teret seemed bored by it all. Only roared twice.

Senate Cloakroom

by Sen. J. Glenn Beall

There's a rather gruesome story about a murderer who admitted killing a man for three dollars. I was reminded of that incident the other day when the promoters of a plan to put an unnecessary airport in northern Virginia finally began publicizing their financial motivations. Asked to explain his action to a judge, the man shrugged his shoulders and replied: "You know how it is, your honor; three bucks here and three bucks there, they all add up."

ing such a facility as a second airport for Washington is that it might eventually bring the Virginia area an annual payroll increase of $33-million. They ignore the fact that construction of the airfield would take three to five years, and that it has already been a year and a half since a Senate committee reported that the need for action to relieve the "seriously overcrowded" condition of Washington national Airport was "immediate and urgent."

And they seemingly ignore the question of whether the lives of today's air travellers should be risked while certain interests dream of the pot of gold they expect the Virginia airport to provide. After all, they appear to be saying, "33-million bucks here and 33-million bucks there, they all add up, and perhaps the good luck of the patrons of National Airport will stretch for several more years."

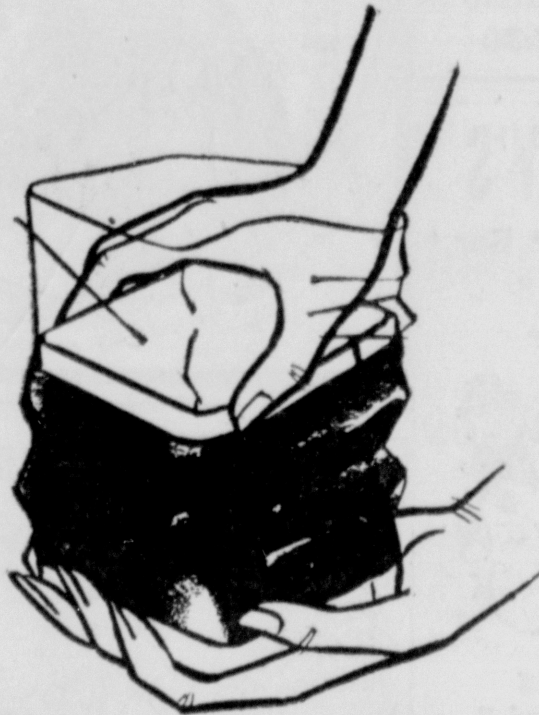

Outlying Locations Suggested
I, for one, refuse to participate in such a gamble. And I will continue to insist that Friendship International Airport be used as soon as possible as a co-terminal for the Capital. It is interesting to note that when the safety gamblers were boosting Burke, Va., as a good site for a new airport, they made much of the fact that it was 15 minutes closer to downtown Washington than Friendship. Now, proclaiming that they might lose all chances for the annual $33-million if they don't do something — anything, they are indiscriminately offering several other locations, all of which are farther away than Burke. Economy A Factor

It would be completely false, of course, to suggest that those of us who are interested in Friendship are unaware of the financial gains which additional usage would provide. We can say, however, that the urgency of the current situation supersedes such monetary considerations, and that Friendship provides the ONLY immediate answer to our problem. Furthermore, with the national accent on economy, I think it would be completely irresponsible if we by-passed a chance to use Friendship without cost to the Federal Government in favor of a project like the Burke plan, in which the initial expenditure alone would be more than $35-million.

NOTES FROM MY APPOINTMENT BOOK: During the week, Mrs. Beall and I were joined in Washington by our three sons, who attended a reception at the White House with us, Dick, an ensign in the United States Navy, made it to town just an hour before the affair started. George Jr. came down from our home in Frostburg. I also had the pleasure of addressing the 13th annual banquet of the Dorchester Grocers' Association.

WOMEN ARE HAPPY ABOUT THIS NEW WRAPPER

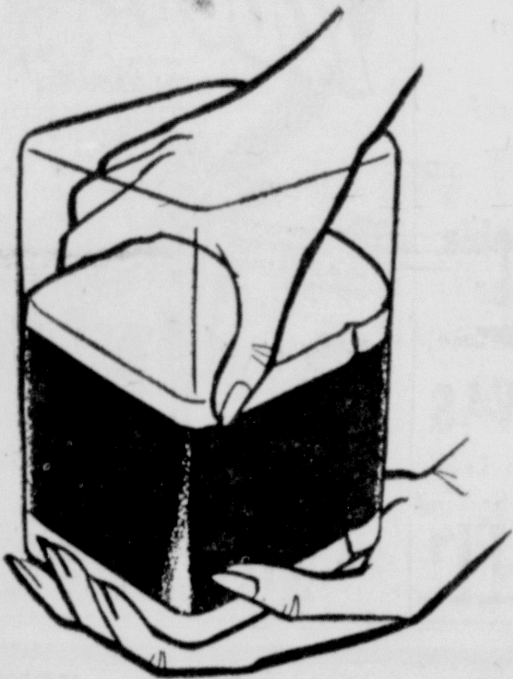

THEN Slices jammed against loose band
• Fingers caught on loose band • Packages tore open • Result—stale bread—frustration.

Before SCHMIDT introduced the revolutionary new method of welding the label band of the clear wrapper—women had to struggle to get slices "in or out" of the bread package.

But now—the new SCHMIDT "easy-in, easy-out" package eliminates all such trouble—take slices out—put slices back in—it's a happy package that brings your family fresher bread.

THE FLAVOR GOES IN BEFORE THE PACKAGE GOES OUT

NOW Label band welded to clear wrapper
• No more jammed slices • No more torn packages • Result—fresh bread—happiness.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 club	Pass	1 diamond	Pass
1 heart	Pass	4 hearts	Pass
4 spades	Pass	5 clubs	Pass
6 hearts	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Nine of diamonds.

It goes against the grain of most players to leave any adverse trumps outstanding in the play of a slam. They are perfectly willing to assume great risks in an effort to bring home contracts at a lower level. But when they are in a six bid, they become panicky and trumps must be drawn. Observe South's performance in today's hand.

The six heart contract was sound enough. North felt that a jump to game was necessary on the second round to show the full strength of his hand. After the cue bid in spades, he revealed the club fit and South proceeded to slam.

West opened the nine of diamonds, which was won by South with the ace. Declarer was up against a difficult decision as to the choice of plays. There were two avenues of approach. One was to set up the club suit, and the other was to play for a cross ruff.

Declarer elected to go for the clubs. He drew three rounds of trumps, winding up in his own hand, and led a low club toward the queen. East won with the king and returned a spade. South continued the suit for three rounds and took a club discard from dummy. Then the ace of clubs was played.

When West showed out, there was no way to set up the suit, and the contract was defeated. This was an unfortunate break, inasmuch as declarer would have succeeded had the clubs broken 3-2 or had the king of clubs been with West.

My own preference would have been to play for the cross-ruff. Unless the spades are 6-2 (an improbable distribution), the cross-ruff will succeed as follows: Three rounds of spades are played and a club discarded from dummy.

Now the ace and another club are played. East will win and presumably lead a trump. Since all the trumps are high and there is no danger of an overruff, three clubs are ruffed in dummy and three diamonds in the closed hand for a total of 12 tricks.

Valley And Keyser Play In State, Regional Games

Knights Face Chestertown Quint Today

College Park Game At 2:30; Weston To Battle Keyser

Valley High School, Lonaconing, and Keyser High School, the only teams of the tri-state area surviving tournament play, are slated to swing into action today in games at the University of Maryland, College Park, and the West Virginia University Field House, Morgantown.

Valley's Black Knights will tackle Chestertown High School of the Eastern Shore at 2:30 o'clock in the semi-final round of the Maryland Class "B" championship tournament at College Park.

Winners Meet Saturday
In the other semi-final contest Oxon Hill High School will tackle Stephen Decatur High School of Berlin at 6 p. m. Winners of these games will battle it out Saturday at 7:30 p. m., for the title which was won last year by Valley.

Valley has whipped Williamsport, 35-14, Thurmont 62-48 and North Carroll 55 in the preliminary round games and enters the state event with an eight-game winning streak and a 20-5 record.

County Won 6 of 8
Coach John C. Meyers of Valley is taking his sixth team to the state event in eight years. His Central High Tigers won state Class "B" honors in 1950 and 1952 and his 1956 Valley team went all the way. In 1951 his Central quint lost a 44-43 heartbreaker to Aberdeen in the state finals and in 1955 Valley was ushered out by Cambridge, 59-39. Allegany county schools have won six of the eight Class "B" tournaments, including Beall in 1949 and Bruce in 1953 and 1954.

Other games on today's College Park schedule are: Class A semi-finals: Frederick vs. Wicomico, Salisbury at 7:30 and Howard County vs. Montgomery Blair of Silver Spring at 9 o'clock. Class C semi-finals: Laurel vs. Sudlersville at 1 p. m., and Southern of Lothian vs. Crisfield at 4 p. m.

Keyser Plays Weston
Keyser High School will play Weston High School at 7:30 and Morgantown High's Mohigans will oppose Webster Springs High School in the semi-final round of the West Virginia Region 2 Class "A" tourney tonight at Morgantown.

The winners will clash Saturday at 8 p. m., for the right to represent the region in the state championship event at Marshall College, Huntington, March 22 and 23.

Keyser enters the regional with a 16-7 record and a 7-game winning streak.

Game At Petersburg
In a West Virginia Class "B" Area 2 contest Coalton High School of Randolph county plays Hedgesville of Berkeley county tonight at Petersburg High School at 8 p. m. The winner advances to the state tourney at Huntington next week.

Red Sox Blank Cardinals, 4-0

SARASOTA, Fla., March 14 (AP)—Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell handed out four walks in the first inning to pave the way for as many runs as the Boston Red Sox pinned a 4-0 shutout on the St. Louis Cardinals before 2,000 fans at Payne Park today.

Mizell failed to get a batter out, although only two earned runs were charged against him, before Willard Schmidt, Jim Davis and Larry Jackson stymied the Sox the rest of the way.

But the Cardinals' pitchers were overmatched by the Boston hurlers. After Frank Sullivan had given up three hits in his three innings, Ike Delock and George Susce combined for six hitless innings the rest of the way. Delock has now turned in six grapefruit league innings without allowing a hit.

Yanks Edge Tigers In 10th Frame, 3-2

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 14 (AP)—A line drive single to right center by rookie Tony Kubek following Gil McDougald's tenth-inning triple today gave the New York Yankees a 3-2 exhibition game victory over the Detroit Tigers.

McDougald, the first batter to face reliever Jack Crimian, walked his three-bagger to deep center. Kubek then hit his drive between centerfielder Jim Small and right fielder Bob Kennedy.

Mt. St. Mary's Is Beaten By Kentucky Club

Wesleyan Floormen Stop Mounts, 99-81

EVANSVILLE, Ind., March 14 (AP)—Kentucky Wesleyan surged from behind with 28 points in the opening nine minutes of the second half tonight to stun Mt. St. Mary's of Emmitsburg, Md. 99-81 in the semifinals of the NCAA Small College Basketball Tournament.

Wheaton (Ill.) College met Los Angeles State in the second game to round out tomorrow night's championship contest.

In being nicked for their first defeat in 22 games, the favored Mountaineers got off to a fast start in piling up a 31-19 lead only to have Kentucky Wesleyan shave it to 43-39 by halftime.

After intermission, Mt. St. Mary's cooled off while the Panthers, controlling the boards, turned torrid to grab a 67-58 margin in the first nine minutes and break the game wide open.

The barrage was fused by Billy Bibb with 10 points, Logan Gipe 8, Tom Cox 6 and Mason Cope 4.

Jack Sullivan, the marked man of the Mason-Dixon Conference champs, who set a Municipal Stadium record with 39 points in his team's quarterfinal victory over Rider College Wednesday, had an off night. He was choked by a 2-on-1 defense and he rimmed the hoop on many of the shots he was able to take.

The 6-4 senior, however, did manage to score 19 points before fouling out with 7½ minutes to play and the Panthers leading 76-65.

Old Germans Bow To 40 & 8 Quint, Peskin Is Victor

The Forty & Eight Club broke the eight-game winning streak of the Old Germans, newly crowned champions of the City Basketball League, last night in an overtime battle at Fort Hill by the score of 89-85.

Showers and Eckard dumped in 29 and 23 points for the Old Germans, R. Maphis, E. Reilly and P. Mason with 23, 22 and 20 headed the Old G's.

Peskin's trimmed the Rec Five in the other game on the program, 89-74.

The scoring leaders were George McGregor, Peskin's, 20 and Cage of the Rec Five with 26. Lineups:

Baltimore Orioles Beat Giants, 7-6

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz., March 14 (AP)—A pinch hit single by rookie outfielder Joe Durham with one out in the eighth inning gave the Baltimore Orioles a 7-6 victory over the New York Giants today. Pitcher Charley Beamon hit a long fly to left and when Giant outfielder Foss Castleman wrenched his left knee on the play, the ball rolled away for a triple.

Norman Sell Named Coach At LaSalle

Geatz Steps Down After Three Years As Baseball Mentor

Appointment of Norman E. Sell Jr., as head baseball coach at LaSalle High School for the 1957 season was announced last night by Brother Thomas, athletic director at the North Centre Street school.

Sell succeeds George Geatz, who asked to be relieved of his duties as baseball mentor, a post he has held for three seasons. Geatz is also the head basketball coach at LaSalle. Sell served as assistant baseball coach during the 1956 campaign.

Teams Won 38 of 48

During his three years at the helm, Geatz's LaSalle tossers have won 38 and lost 10 games. His 1954 team posted a 13-3 record, tied Allegany High for the Bi-State Conference championship, and finished in a three-way tie with Allegany and Fort Hill for city honors. In 1955 the Explorers won 12 and lost 4. Last year LaSalle chalked up 13 wins against three losses and tied Fort Hill's Sentinels for the Bi-State Conference championship.

Sell was graduated from LaSalle in 1949 and was an outfielder on baseball teams there for four seasons. He also played basketball for three years.

Clark Is Assistant

Norman managed the B'nai B'rith team in the Hot Stove Baseball League in 1955 after serving one year as assistant to Manager Jimmy Collins. His assistant at LaSalle will be Michael Bernard (Mickey) Clark, former athlete of LaSalle High School and Mt. St. Joseph's School, Baltimore.

Candidates for LaSalle's baseball team will report Tuesday for their initial workout at St. Peter Field.

Potomac Park, LaVale Cagers Reach Finals

First Methodist, St. Mark's Lose

LaVale Baptist and Potomac Park E.U.R. advanced to the playoff finals in the second flight of the Sunday School Basketball League last night and will meet Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at the YMCA.

LaVale Baptist defeated St. Mark's Reformed, 42-33, and Potomac Park trimmed First Methodist, 33-20.

Davidson and Trenton sparked LaVale with 14 and 14 markers. J. Cranor dumped in 23 points for St. Mark's.

Potomac Park's attack was paced by Windle who collected 11 points. McCarty headed First Methodist with 10 tallies. Lineups:

LaSalle High School captured the lead in the Christian Brothers Rifle League by defeating Calvert Hall of Baltimore in a postal match Wednesday night by the score of 489 to 488.

The Explorers can retain the championship if victorious over Central Catholic High of Pittsburgh in the final match of the season tonight.

West Catholic of Philadelphia concluded its schedule Wednesday night with a 495-489 victory over Central Catholic of Pittsburgh and moved into the runner-up spot. The race will end in a triple tie if the Explorers drop their final match of the season. In another match Calvert Hall will fire Central Catholic of Canton, Ohio.

LaSalle's victory over Calvert Hall was the second by the margin of one point. The score of the first match was 488-487.

Randy Lantz of LaSalle posted high score of 99 in Wednesday's match. The scores:

Bill Casper Ties Littler In Tourney

Post 66s In Open At St. Petersburg

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 14 (AP)—Gene Littler and Bill Casper Jr., a couple of West Coast buddies, fired 5 under par 66s today and tied for the first round lead in the $12,500 St. Petersburg Open.

Littler has been fighting a slump the past few months and working hard to regain his top form. He toured the 6,215-yard Pasadena Club course in 34-32-66.

Casper, winner of the Phoenix Open, shot a brilliant 31 on the par 35 back side to pull into a tie. Casper's performance was more spectacular because it was the first time he had played the course.

Although he had been here three days he passed up practice rounds and went fishing in Pasadena's creeks and lagoons.

"I was tired and I needed to relax," Casper explained. Littler, 26, and Casper, 25, are both from suburbs of San Diego, Calif. They grew up together, were opponents in high school golf matches and served together in the Navy at San Diego.

Breathing on the necks of the co-leaders were three four-tested veterans—Jackie Burke Jr., and Jimmy Demaret, two Texans playing out of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., and Lionel Hebert, Lafayette, La., who lost in a sudden death playoff here last year. They had 67s.

Grouped at 68 were George Bayer of Los Angeles, Bob Inman of Detroit, Pete Cooper of Lakeland, Fla., and Don Addington of Tecumseh, Mich.

School Bond Bill Enacted By Senate

Delegation Seeks Jury Pay Increase

The Allegany County school construction bond bill was enacted yesterday when it was approved by the Senate, according to State Senator Charles M. See.

The measure, introduced by the Allegany County Delegation as House Bill 484, authorizes the Board of Allegany County Commissioners to finance a $1,200,000 school construction program.

Passed in the Senate yesterday were House Bills 313 and 315. The first allows the county to raise pay of assessors to $5,200 a year and the second, the pay of the supervisor of assessments to $6,300.

Also passed by the Senate was House Bill 314, which authorizes the Upper Potomac River Commission to construct and operate sewage facilities serving the Tri-Towns and the Luke mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company. It was sent to the House for concurrence on a mutually agreed upon technical amendment.

Weights Bill Enacted

The city and county will not have to appoint a sealer of weights and measures as a result of Senate Bill 291, enacted by the House Wednesday.

The bill requires the appointment of a weights and measures inspector in towns and counties having a population of 100,000, instead of 35,000 as the law now reads.

Gov. McKeldin this week signed three Senate repeals introduced by Senator See. They were SB 311, 320 and 321, eliminating obsolete laws referring to the Allegany-Garrett boundary lines, salaries of teachers and the Maryland state normal school.

The Governor also signed House Bill 233, sponsored by Delegates Joseph D. Tydings (D-Harford) and Noel Speir Cook (R-Allegany) resulting from a year to six months in the period after probate in which objections may be filed to its validity of a will.

Enter House Bills

Higher juror pay in Allegany County is provided in a bill introduced by the Allegany County delegation.

House Bill 805 increases the daily stipend from $6 to $8. It was introduced on deadline day for new legislation, Tuesday.

The central tax office bill sponsored by the delegation and introduced on the deadline day provides for regular collections in various towns in the county, in addition to establishing the main office in Cumberland.

The bill sets out collections at intervals in Lonaconing, Frostburg, Westport, Mt. Savage, Flintstone, Midland, and other points.

Del. Kelley, who is serving in his final session before taking over the liquor board position, was co-sponsor of two bills introduced on deadline day.

One, House Bill 887, co-sponsored by Del. Myrtle Polk of Worcester County, provides statutory allowances for surviving spouses in the administration of estates.

The other, also with Polk as a co-sponsor, is House Bill 90 which increases from $2,000 to $4,000 the share awarded the surviving husband or widow in cases where the intestate left no surviving children or parents, but did leave a brother or sister or child of a brother or sister.

Tipsy In Court, Resident Fined

An Oak Street man who appeared in Trial Magistrates Court on Tuesday in a tipsy condition yesterday was fined on the drunk charge and was given a 30-day suspended jail sentence on another count by Magistrate Donald W. Mason.

Mason stated Charles Boden had been summoned to appear in court last Tuesday on a charge of disturbance of the peace. He arrived for his hearing over a half hour late and drunk the magistrate stated.

Arrested and taken to Allegany County Jail Boden was tried yesterday and found guilty of the original count and given the suspended sentence. He was placed on strict probation for one year by Magistrate Mason who then fined him $10 and costs on the drunk charge.

Keyboard Experience Workshop

Marion S. Egbert, educational consultant for the American Music Conference and a leading authority in the field of music education, is shown demonstrating with a group of fourth grade pupils at West Side School at a keyboard experience workshop. In the foreground two of the fourth graders are seated at an electric piano keyboard, as are the two at the right. In the background a number of other pupils are using cardboard keyboards. About 150 students and teachers attended the after-school workshop.

150 Teachers, Students Learn Piano Techniques

Music students at Frostburg State Teachers College, student teachers at the College Laboratory School, all 50 fourth grade teachers in the Allegany County public schools, and the resource music teachers of the county were in a group of some 150 persons who attended a keyboard experience workshop yesterday afternoon at West Side School.

Marion S. Egbert, educational consultant for the American Music Conference and a leading authority in the field of music education, conducted the workshop.

W. Valgren Routh, supervisor of music education in the Allegany County public schools, said the program began with a demonstration utilizing some 20 fourth grade pupils of West Side School. They were selected from the classrooms of Miss Anona Brehan and Michael P. Cunningham Jr.

With these youngsters who are receiving their first keyboard training this year, Mr. Egbert demonstrated chord activities and some melodic playing which combined new experience with a review of what they already have learned.

After their 45-minute program, the group watched a film showing a group of third graders in Scarsdale, N. Y., getting keyboard training.

A break for light refreshments followed and then the consultant lectured the group, using some of the teachers and pupils in the audience to illustrate his points.

Mrs. Charles L. Kopp and Dr. Ward Cole accompanied the student teachers and college students from Frostburg for the workshop.

The American Music Conference, a non-profit organization interested in bringing the benefits of music participation to more Americans, is sponsoring lectures and workshops by Mr. Egbert in leading schools, colleges and universities.

Last year Mr. Egbert made 47 appearances, addressing more than 3,500 teachers and prospective teachers in workshops in 17 states. He attended 13 national, regional and state meetings of music education groups.

Williams, through Attorney W. Earle Cobey, has denied the allegations.

Grant Co. Girl Hurt In Crash

A 10-year-old Petersburg, W. Va., girl was admitted to Memorial Hospital yesterday in "fair" condition after being injured in an automobile accident about 1 p. m. on Route 42 near Cossroads, W. Va.

Hospital attendants said Nancy Duling had both arms broken, a dislocation, abrasions and was suffering from shock when brought to Cumberland by her parents about 3:30 p. m.

The injured girl is the daughter of Galen Duling, assistant superintendent of schools of Grant County.

Cpl. D. E. Adams, West Virginia State Police, said the crash occurred on a narrow dirt road near Crossroads, about six miles north of Petersburg.

Mrs. Flora Duling, the child's mother, was driving the automobile when it ran into a ditch along the roadway, traveled about 40 feet, careened across the road and rolled over twice down a 40-foot embankment. The injured girl was thrown from the automobile.

Mrs. Duling was X-rayed at Memorial Hospital, and later released.

Cpl. Adams said no charges will be made pending further investigation of the accident.

House Favors Reflectorized License Plates

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS, March 14 (AP)—The House of Delegates went through another long harangue today on its "responsibility" for promoting highway safety before it went on record favoring use of reflectorized material on license plates.

The center of the controversy was the attitude of a state agency which has caused previous confusion in the Legislature on other proposals concerning motor vehicles.

Joseph Curran, assistant director of prisons, who is in charge of making the state's plates, was the focal figure.

Curran had told the Ways and Means Committee that reflectorized material would cost $710,000 a year more to use, an initial outlay of $30,000 for machinery would be required, and $250,000 would be needed for a new building.

Del. Acker (D-Balto 3d) called these "astronomical figures a joke."

"I'm growing quite disgusted with the way this bill is being pushed around and the way the Department of Correction is pushing the Legislature around," declared Del. Berkson (R-Washington).

He called "fantastic and ridiculous" a statement by Curran that there might be a "prison riot" if the state adopted reflectorized plates. The plates could be used for several years and Curran had testified this would leave the prisoners idle. Berkson said only 75 prisoners work in making the license plates.

"The Department of Correction can be replaced," cried Berkson. "If they say they can't do the job we can put in somebody who can."

Amendments Debated

The debate was over amendments offered by Del. Mandel (D-Balto 5th). He wanted to give the commissioner of motor vehicles authority to order the reflectorized material only if it wouldn't cost any more money.

The amendment was beaten 95-12.

The bill, as Del. Acker said, has "taken a beating and been bounced around" almost from the

New Sprinkler System Planned For Hospital

Sacred Heart To Get $33,250 Ford Grant

Sacred Heart Hospital is expected to begin work on a new sprinkling system shortly after the receipt of the final $33,250 grant from the Ford Foundation this week.

Sister Celeste, superintendent of the hospital operated by the Daughters of Charity, said the contract for the sprinkling system has been let to Grinnell Company of Baltimore and is expected to cost about $18,000.

The Ford Foundation grant will be the last of a total of $66,500 given to the local institution in the foundation's $200,000 program to improve and extend community hospital services in the United States, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

Payments Announced

The foundation announced yesterday that the final payments to some 3,300 private hospitals will total $38,315,300 and are a part of the appropriations of $500,000,000 announced by the Ford organization in 1955. Grants to individual hospitals range between $10,000 and $250,000. Individual amounts were computed on the basis of patient days of service and the number of births in each hospital.

Sister Celeste said Sacred Heart Hospital outlined a program of installation of a new sprinkler system in the entire old section of the hospital, covering all floors from the basement to the attic. She stated the sprinkler alarm would not be extended to the newer section of the hospital erected in 1937 because that portion of the building is constructed of fireproof materials.

Also outlined to the Ford Foundation by the 135-bed institution was a plan for the installation of modern X-ray equipment which was to be placed on the fourth floor of the hospital. However, this plan has been abandoned for the moment, Sister Celeste said, because the equipment was much too large and heavy, and could not be erected in the hospital without danger of collapse of the floors.

Plans To Be Made

Faced with the need of reconstructing the hospital to facilitate the use of more modern equipment, the organization has decided to hold the remaining $48,000 in abeyance until plans are made for its use.

The hospital superintendent said the work on the sprinkler alarm system is expected to take about five months to complete.

She reiterated the fact that the Daughters of Charity believe that the order is not in a position to provide additional finances for the local facility in keeping with operations in other cities, all of them larger than Cumberland.

Very Rev. Francis C. Dodd, director of the Emmitsburg order, explained the hospital's need for a tremendous amount of work to provide the solution of the problems confronting the Sisters here. Father Dodd, in January, told Mayor Roy W. Evans that it is not the desire of the Sisters to withdraw from Cumberland but that necessary provisions should be made to bring the local facilities up to the standards sought by the Sisters.

Two Grass Fires Are Extinguished

City firemen extinguished a pair of small grass fires yesterday, with West Side going to the hill atop Patterson Avenue about 11:58 a. m., and South End answering an alarm at 2:19 p. m. Both grass fires were put out with little trouble.

Mrs. Emma Reid, 43, of 72 Marion Street, was admitted to Memorial Hospital last night with a badly lacerated left leg. Attacks reported the accident occurred when Mrs. Reid slipped and fell between two rafters while cleaning at her home.

Your Red Cross: Home Service Provides Varied, Vital Program

By F. ALLAN WEATHERHOLT
News Staff Writer

At a time when the Nation's Armed Forces are at a near record peak in strength for peacetime, and at a period when men from every city, town, village and hamlet are in uniform, the Red Cross has one of its greatest peacetime duties and obligations.

And as long as the Cold War continues, it is a generally accepted fact that this country must keep millions of men and women in uniform, trained to meet any emergency.

In its charter from the Congress, the Red Cross, locally and nationally, is charged with the responsibility of caring for the needs of servicemen and their families.

Red Cross services to the Armed Forces began in 1898 during the Spanish-American War. Clara Barton took nurses and a volume of relief supplies to Cuba and sent field agents with supplies to Army camps in the States. California Red Cross volunteers served men passing through San Francisco on their way to the Philippines, and set up a convalescent home in San Francisco for wounded and ill soldiers and sailors returning from the Far East.

This was the beginning, and it set the pattern for continued activity through the years, in wartime and in peace.

Criticisms Voiced

During and immediately after World War II and the Korean War, thousands of veterans will testify to the service rendered by Red Cross. Of course, there are veterans who had unhappy experiences or who think they do not owe the Red Cross anything. The Red Cross is a vast organization made up of individuals, and individuals, being human, make mistakes. If they were in Red Cross uniform at the time the mistake was made, it is the Red Cross that is remembered and not the individual.

Today, the Red Cross has grown from that mere handful in Cuba, to 5,400 American Red Cross offices in a round-the-world network that handles the biggest of all jobs . . . serving the armed forces and their families.

In the 3,700 domestic and insular chapters, this activity is called Home Service. At 1,600 military stations and 121 military hospitals at home and overseas, it is known respectively as (1) Service at Military Installations and (2) Service in Military and Veterans Hospitals. In scattered outposts in Korea, and at half-dozen off-post centers in France and North Africa, it is called Supplemental Recreational Activities Overseas.

Home Service is Misnomer

Red Cross Home Service therefore is probably a misnomer. Actually it is SAF or Service with the Armed Forces. Among its major activities, which keep this huge network of chapters and Red Cross installations busy around the clock are the following:

Reporting and Communications — In certain family emergencies it is the Red Cross which is the only link between the man in uniform and the family at home. Through local chapters, field directors at military posts and bases can be contacted swiftly, messages, emergency information sent, and clearance leave obtained if a man is needed at home. Home Service provides reports to the military authorities to help them make decisions on such matters as hardship or emergency discharges, emergency leaves, loans and grants.

Assistance in Applying For Government Benefits — Many servicemen's dependents need help with applications for medical care and allowances, for medical care and other benefits. The Red Cross Home Service provides this help.

Referral Service — Frequently, the most valuable assistance the Red Cross can give is that of acquiring families with services available to them from other agencies and organizations and helping them to obtain and use such services.

Financial Assistance — Sometimes emergencies arise because funds are not immediately available. In such cases, servicemen and their dependents residing at military installations may receive financial assistance from field directors, and servicemen's dependents residing in civilian

Mr. CARROLL

P. J. Carroll Dies Following Long Illness

Patrick Joseph Carroll Jr., supervisor in the insurance division of the State Employment Service here, died yesterday evening at Memorial Hospital. He was 64.

Mr. Carroll, who resided at 308 Cumberland Street, had been in ill health for a number of months. He began his service for the state about 20 years ago in the local office as a clerk.

A continuous member of Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion for 20 years, Mr. Carroll served on the executive committee for four years and also on other various committees in the Legion.

He also was a member of St. Patrick's Catholic Church of the Holy Name Society of that parish; a member of Voltaire 164, 40 and 48, and a veteran of World War I.

He was born June 25, 1893 in Midland, a son of the late James P. and Margaret (Kenney) Carroll, and had been a resident of Cumberland the past 50 years.

He is survived by his widow, Ellen (Taylor) Carroll, who is the daughter of the late John T. Taylor, former business manager of the Cumberland Evening Times, and Mary (Morehead) Taylor.

Also surviving are five brothers, Simon K. and John E., both of this city, and James G., Thomas and Paul Carroll, all of Baltimore, and three sisters, Miss Agnes Carroll, city; Mrs. Thomas Stephens, Midway, and Mrs. J. Edwards Blake, city.

The body will be at the residence this afternoon.

Salvation Army Units To Attend Clarksburg Rally

Girl Guards and Sunbeams from Cumberland's two Salvation Army corps will go to Clarksburg, W. Va., Saturday to attend the annual rally for the youth organizations.

Capt. Daniel Biggs, commander of the Citadel, said about 25 girls from the Citadel will attend, and about 12 from the South Cumberland Corps.

Awards for outstanding work during the past year will be presented at the district rally.

A series of Bible study classes will begin today at 7:30 p. m. at the Citadel.

The subject for the first meeting will be the Book of Genesis, and succeeding books of the Bible will be discussed during the Friday night sessions. Capt. Biggs will be the instructor.

The Citadel has completed a local officers training course on "Understanding the Pupils." Sixteen Sunday school teachers and leaders of youth activities completed the class, Capt. Biggs said.

A delegation from this area, he said, may go to Washington April 9 to attend a concert of the International Saff Band, from London.

The Salvation Army Advisory Board will meet March 25 at noon at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Sales Tax Hike Favored For Teachers Pay

Backing Is Shown At Bill Hearing

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS, March 14 (AP)—An estimated 80 per cent of some 500 persons attending a hearing on school teacher pay raises today told the House Ways and Means Committee they would support an increase in the state sales tax to finance the cost.

The others, including spokesmen for organized labor, stood up for an increase in the 2 per cent income tax.

The dramatic show of hands came midway in a hearing on a bill which would boost salaries of public school teachers $900 during the next two years and provide more state classroom aid to counties and Baltimore City.

No Opponents

There were no opponents to the measure at the hearing which packed the House chamber and galleries. Witnesses included state education officials and leaders of parent-teacher groups, labor unions, the American Legion, and other organizations.

Education officials testified that Maryland's minimum scale of $2,800 to $4,600 has fallen behind those of neighboring states where Maryland must find two thirds of its teachers, and that the shortage will become more critical unless immediate steps are taken.

Chairman Boone (D-Balto County) told the group there were only two ways to raise the 24 to 26 million dollars the bill would call for in increased state spending—by boosting the sales or income tax.

"I propose to do an unusual thing," said Boone, and asked them to state which they would prefer. After a loud voice vote for the sales tax, he called for a show of hands with the same result.

Endorsed Pay Raise

C. B. Windsor, president of the Maryland CIO who said he also spoke for the AFL and their combined 215,000 membership, told the delegates that the unions had endorsed a teacher pay raise and "wholeheartedly support a state income tax increase."

B. Robert Fahey, of the Maryland-D.C. Council of Machinists, said his organization also backed the proposal and favored an income tax hike.

"Give the teachers their pay raise and send us (the taxpayers) the bill," Fahey said.

Mrs. Fred G. Bull, president of the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers, opened the way for the usual committee action by stating that as taxpayers her organization's 155,000 members "think immediately of the costs."

"We don't want to buy something without paying for it," she said.

Most of those voting for the sales tax appeared to be from parent-teacher organizations.

Mrs. Bull said that approximately one teacher of every four in Maryland lacks a proper teacher certificate and "some are not much better than baby sitters."

Can't Teach Pupils

"Without out present salary schedules we cannot teach the 550,000 pupils who will be in schools this September," said Charles W. Willis, Harford County superintendent of schools and president of the State Superintendents' Association.

He said his county and others have found recruiting of teachers is "now on a national level" and that sources once tapped by Maryland are no longer available. Higher salaries in industry and other jobs is also luring prospective teachers, he said.

Dr. David W. Zimmerman, assistant superintendent of schools, said "even California has been recruiting in the East," and said that Maryland is faced with an "acute shortage for the next 10 years" unless it shores up salaries.

He said Maryland colleges graduate only 1/3 of the teachers needed, and that many positions are being filled with emergency certificates for teachers who would not otherwise qualify. Even so, there were 237 vacancies this year, Dr. Zimmerman said.

Time Has Come

Edward Walters, vice commander of the American Legion, said his organization felt that "the time has come to give our teachers relief no matter how or where you raise it."

The pay raise bill calls for a $800 boost in teacher minimums to be spread over a two-year period, $400 this year and $400 next. There would be corresponding higher pay for principals and other supervisory employees and a boost from $600 per classroom to $1,400 in state aid to education.

Baltimore City and the counties already pay over the minimum of $2,900 for starting teachers and $4,600 for those with 10 years experience. To assure that they apply new state money to boosting salaries further, Henry B. Waskow, president of the teachers union, recommended that an amendment be drawn to the bill spelling it out.
